Harbour Union Go National

Home Grown Success

Tell all your friends across the country to head along and listen to the Harbour Union live! The Harbour Union, a collective group of Lyttelton musicians, will spread their musical love over a six date nationwide tour in September. The tour will support the release of the Harbour Union album created and recorded within two months of the February earthquake. Proceeds from album sales will be reinvested back into our thriving Lyttelton artistic community. Consisting of thirteen new or re-imagined songs from artists including: The Eastern; Delaney Davidson; Lindon Puffin: The Unfaithful Ways; The Tiny Lies; Al Park; Runaround Sue and friends, the group are eager to embark on their national tour to continue the positive promotion of Lyttelton and the album.

Harbour Union member Lindon Puffin says, "At the time we created the album, it was all very spontaneous, driven by both the prevailing manic energy of the moment and a very genuine desire to give something back to a community which has been so supportive to us over the years. It wasn't until after we released the album to coincide with the second re-opening of Lyttelton's Wunderbar, and selling so many copies - it turned up in the charts, that's when we started discussing the possibility of touring the show." Friends and family across the nation, can catch some Lyttelton magic at:

Thurs 8 Sept @ The Aurora Centre, Christchurch

Wed 14 Sept @ 1885, Auckland

Wed 21 Sept @ Mighty Mighty, Wellington

Sat 10 Sept @ Chicks Hotel, Port Chalmers,

Sat 17 Sept @ The Free House, Nelson

Thurs 22 Sept @ St Peters Town Hall, Paekakariki

The Harbour Union album is also available for purchase from the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre; Portico; London Street Dairy and Mondo Vino - a world class local album, worth every penny!

Third Time Lucky?

Striving to Keep the Mitre Standing

The Mitre Tavern was first opened by Major Hornbook in 1848 as a sly grog shop. It was well in business when the first four sailing ships arrived in Lyttelton. The premises are noted as the first pub in Canterbury and probably the first commercial premises.

According to the history books, the Mitre Tavern has already had three lives. The first in 1849 when Major Alfred Hornbrook had the hotel commissioned and built. Initially it was the only sizeable establishment in Lyttelton and hosted all the important early meetings in the settlement. This establishment survived the great fire in 1870 only to be consumed by flames in 1875.

The then new Mitre was much grander than the last. Again constructed out of wood the hotel boasted a Kauri paneled commercial room, billiard room, a range of guest rooms and servants accommodation. The new building was proudly opened for business in September 1876.

Tragically fire was to beset the hotel again. In July 1926 the wooden building was gutted. The current, and third, Mitre building is in fact a concrete structure not brick as commonly thought. It is for this reason, that it has survived the earthquakes. The building is a California mission style art deco building, and is an early example of use of modern concrete.

The September 2010 earthquake resulted in mainly non-structural damage to the lath and plaster ceilings and walls. The main fireplace and chimney in the upstairs lounge were damaged although still stood. In the bar there were some wall cracks near both toilet facilities.

The February 2011 earthquake was devastating in Lyttelton. The west wall moved out 150mm and upstairs was basically trashed. The main chimney and fireplace collapsed.

Within ten days structural engineers had managed to pull in both bowing walls and stabilised the building with the use of thick steel cable and turfers. The walls were effectively tied back to internal elements of the building.

This technique was pioneered on other heritage buildings after the September 2010 earthquake. It was highly effective and prevented further damage to these walls from aftershocks. The Mitre Hotel was intending to reopen the bar but structural engineers assessed the damage as unsafe for a public building.

The June 2011 earthquake caused further damage, with the north wall incurring a serious degree of damage. The gas brick fire place collapsed in the bar.

.... /Continued

The existing Mitre Hotel building has a heritage Category 2 classification. Structural engineers are assessing all possible options for the repair of the building. The likely solutions so far are strengthening the street facing walls with Shotcrete [the process of conveying concrete or mortar through a hose, pneumatically projected at high velocity onto a surface] and bracing with a steel internal structure. North and west walls may need to be rebuilt.

There is an enormous amount of capital involved in such a repair and earthquake strengthening project. It is well beyond the cover offered by insurance. To make the repair and recovery project more viable it is intended to establish four residential apartments on the first floor. This could be a welcome accommodation addition to a new and vibrant Lyttelton. There are however major town planning hurdles and Building Act issues that can make restoration extremely difficult.

Both the building owner and publican have sustained severe personal loss from the earthquakes. It just strengthens their resolve to move forward.

This article was prepared by Tony Ward for the building owner. The Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre wishes to thank the owners for sharing this news with the community during an extremely difficult time. If any of our readers feel they can help support the Mitre Hotel owners in anyway, we can pass on the contact details for Tony Ward.

Cruise Ships Diverted To Akaroa

Disheartening News for Lyttelton Harbour Tourism and Business

The Summer cruise season normally gets underway in October and usually runs through to early April, with the peak cruise period over January and February. In 2009/10 LPC hosted a total of 50 cruise ships. Over 100,000 passengers and crew arrived in Lyttelton, and toured Canterbury during the season, mainly from America, Australia and the United Kingdom¹.

At the end of May 2011, the Lyttelton Port of Christchurch released figures showing 64 cruise vessels were scheduled to call at Lyttelton over the 2011/2012 cruise season. Denoting that this would have been Port Lyttelton's busiest cruise season, even despite some early cancellations as a result of the February earthquake.

Six months after the February earthquake, and at this stage 29 vessels will now be berthing at Akaroa, with the remaining 35 vessels unconfirmed for berthing in Lyttelton. Christchurch and Canterbury Tourism have specifically organised to transfer tourists from Akaroa directly to Hagley Park - leaving few options for tourists to access the Lyttelton Harbour region.

Melanie McAtamney from the Lyttelton Port Company confirms what is already known - the Lyttelton Port has sustained substantial damage to Cashin Quay No.1 and Cashin Quay No.2. What is less known is that as a consequence of the damage caused by the earthquakes, the level of service that the Lyttelton Port Company can offer visiting cruise ships is considered less than ideal. The Lyttelton Port Company has requested the cruise lines provide advice on what level of service they are comfortable with for the coming season. For example, are they comfortable to call into Lyttelton with the damage we have, and more importantly are they comfortable for passengers to transit into Lyttelton. While the port company can immediately repair some areas, other areas cannot be repaired in time.

Despite assurances from the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre that Lyttelton, and the surrounding harbour region, still has plenty to offer tourists - the Lyttelton Port Company have commented that the main cruise liners have indicated that they are very concerned about the "free independent travellers" - they don't wish for them to be at risk, and are concerned what they will actually do in Lyttelton and Christchurch.

As a positive, Black Cat Cruises have confirmed they are gearing up for a bumper cruise ship season in Akaroa this summer. Having confirmed 22 cruise vessel visits starting from October to April - including the Volendam, The World, Oceanic Discoverer, Dawn and Diamond Princess, Pacific Pearl and others².

Yet on the other hand, the Lyttelton business district relies on the cruise ship and Summer tourism trade. News such as this will leave the main street in a precarious position through until the next season in October 2012.

Neighbourhood Week

29 October to 6 November 2011

Neighbourhood Week is a week dedicated to getting to know the people who live close to you. It's about bringing people together – whether it's a small get together of a few households or a larger neighbourhood gathering. The week is an ideal opportunity to introduce yourself to your neighbours. Getting to know your neighbours can make the difference between merely occupying an address and living in a neighbourhood of friends.

Who are my neighbours?

A neighbourhood could also be a small group of families at a local kindergarten, kohanga reo or school who share a common desire to build a strong community with each other. Neighbourhood Week is a festival that celebrates the unique and diverse flavour that is characteristic of each individual neighbourhood.

How did Neighbourhood Week start?

Neighbourhood Week is the brainchild of the Shirley-Papanui Community Board, which held the first event in 1998. Each year, it has grown to the point that it is now being promoted annually by the Christchurch City Council and nationwide by Neighbourhood Support. The Christchurch Neighbourhood Week Team works closely with Neighbourhood Support.

A small subsidy towards cost for Neighbourhood Week is currently allocated by each of the city ward community boards for allocation to help support Neighbourhood Week events. The following criteria applies:

- | | |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| - intention of support | - dates of events |
| - number of people per event | - conflict of events |
| - residents' association | - community board re-imbursement |

Intention of support

Neighbourhood Week funding is seen as a small contribution towards holding an event. Because it is intended to 'bring neighbours together' applications from individuals getting together and holding a local event will take priority over organisations.

Dates of events

While there are set dates for Neighbourhood Week, we understand that not all events can take place within designated dates. If you wish to have your event outside these dates, please provide an explanation on your application form. Please note priority will be given to events that fall within Neighbourhood Week as opposed to other times of the year.

Numbers of people per event

While there are no limitations on numbers attending Neighbourhood Week events, it should be remembered that the main purpose of Neighbourhood Week is to bring neighbours together to get to know each other and therefore events with too small or too large numbers may be less successful in achieving this.

“remember”

A computer was something on TV from a science fiction show of note.

A window was something you hated to clean,
And ram was the cousin of a goat

Meg was the name of my girlfriend.

A gig was a job for the night.
Now they all mean different things,
And that really mega bytes.

An application was for employment.

A program was a TV show.
A cursor used profanity.
A keyboard was a piano.

Memory was something that you lost with age.

A CD was a bank account.
And if you had a three-inch floppy,
You hoped nobody found out.

Compress was something you did to the garbage,
Not something you did to a file.

And if you unzipped
anything in public,
You'd be in jail for a while.

Log on was adding wood to the fire.

Hard drive was a long trip on the road.

A mouse pad was where a mouse lived.
And a backup happened to your commode.

Cut, you did with a pocket knife.

Paste, you did with glue.
A web was a spider's home.
And a virus was the flu.

I guess I'll stick to my pad and paper
And the memory in my head.
I hear nobody's been killed in a computer crash,
But when it happens they wish they were dead.

Contra Dance Comes to Lyttelton

Just Have a Go - Have Some Fun!

Together with Roger Buckton and the band "Folkworks", local contra dance enthusiast Bill Baritompa has organised a dance event for the good folk of Lyttelton, the Harbour Basin, and beyond. A contra dance is very similar to a barn dance. No experience is needed. No partners are needed. It is really easy. Bill is a very experienced dance caller and teacher. It will be a very open, inclusive environment geared to having a good time.

What is Contra Dance? Contra dancing is social interaction, meeting people, and making new friends, set to music. Contra is danced to all sorts of music played by live bands. In a contra dance, parallel lines of dancers stand opposite, or contra to, their partners. In response to the caller's instructions, each couple interacts with the couple next to them to form a four person set and each set interacts with the sets on either side of them. Very little footwork is required in contra dance. The most common type of movement is a smooth walking step and the caller teaches each dance before it is actually done to the music.

Worried About Being New at This? Don't be. You will be in good company. Beginners are always welcome at Contra dances; prior experience is not expected. So grab your dance shoes and come on out for your first dose of Contra Dance! If you make a mistake or miss a figure, no worries! Relax, have fun and remember: it's only a dance!

Where: Lyttelton Recreation Centre, Trinity Hall
25 Winchester Street, Lyttelton

Date: Saturday 17th September

Time: 7.00pm to 10.00pm

The dance will be free admission, but we will ask people to bring a plate for supper. Non-alcoholic drinks will be on sale. If people wish to make a donation all proceeds will go to the Harbour Arts Collective.

Book Your Tickets

Trinity Hall is a good size but the numbers will be limited so that there's enough room to swing your partners and click your heels (and by all means get dressed up for the occasion). So, tickets will be given out prior to the night so we can make sure we do not have to turn people away on the night - please let us know here how many tickets you want and we will send them through - first in, best dressed! Let us know how many tickets you want.

Art in the Park

Orton Bradley

ARTSPACE is focused on establishing Orton Bradley Park as an arts event location. The inspiration for ARTSPACE grew from a hui held in mid-November 2010, exploring ideas around developing the Park as a centre for sustainability in Canterbury.

From a visual arts perspective the long-term vision is to develop areas of Orton Bradley Park into a permanent public-access art space, which will include an arts trail of national and international standing. Alongside this development there will be a variety of arts workshops, including visual arts, music, and theatre, facilitated by experienced and talented artists and craftspeople throughout the year.

Planning is now well under way for the second Art in the Park event for 2011 will be held on the weekend of 26-27 November over at Orton Bradley Park. While still light on specifics Art in the Park organiser Trent Hiles, is pleased to be able to confirm the following workshops:

Print Making - Mono printing to build up several layers of colour. And the collograph method involved creating a plate of different textures.

Earth Paint

Whatu Weaving - Learning the finger twining technique used for making cloakes, or korowai.

Raranga - Learn about the process of gathering and preparing harakeke [flax] for weaving; with the Autumn series teaching students to create he putiputi (a flower), he kono (a four corner basket), he kete (a bag), and he waikawa (a potato basket).

Wood Carving - Gain knowledge of the origins of the patterns used, and the origins and stories of items made; together with tool use and working with different timbers.

If you would like to run a workshop please get in contact with Trent – as it would be great to offer a variety of experiences, and it doesn't have to be visual arts. Musicians, thespians, dancers, craft-artists - everyone is welcome to make an offer. Ultimately, if there is the space, Trent is determined to make it work.

Alternatively, if you have an idea for a workshop that you would like to attend that has not been mentioned then let Trent know those ideas too. The plan is to also hold a music-picnic lunch on the Sunday afternoon, with a chance for 'the public' to possibly look at some of the work being done in the afternoon. There are plenty of ideas to finalise, but do lodge these dates in your diary. If you want to get your name down for a workshop you can let Trent know now as well - the list has already started.

If you would like to be part of developing Orton Bradley Park into a unique arts location in Canterbury, or if you would like to go on the mailing list please contact Trent directly:

When your soul is listless, wan and weary
and you know not what to do;
You need a lift,
a comfort zone,
to sink and curl into...

You need something to nurture you,
To heal your tired heart;
Something soothing,
something soft,
A begin a fresh new start...

And so I tried some chocolate, no good...
its way too sweet;
And then I tried a cup of tea,
But I just can't take the heat...

I read somewhere that baking,
is wholesome, good and fun,
and so I thought I'd bake a cake,
and perhaps please someone...

A chocolate cake is way too rich,
Its so done and quite a bore,
And so i ventured into cheesecakes,
rich in comfort lore...

I crushed some biscuits tenderly and formed a buttery base,
And blended eggs and cottage cheese,
in an anticipatory haze...

And as I plucked it from the heat,
my heart all filled with glee..
Blushing golden, all aglow,
Like the sun beneath the sea...

It cut like butter, soft but firm, (just like we should be);
Eyes closed, I sat
and ate it up, knees curled underneath me...

I nearly purred in complete bliss,
as it passed my eager lips, as it crept into my hungry heart,
and settled gently
on my hips...

November General Elections

Important Meeting Scheduled

General Elections will be held on Saturday 26th November. And this year there is a referendum taking place at the same time. The Referendum gives you the chance to have your say on the voting system we use to elect our Parliaments in the future.

In the Referendum, you will be asked two questions:

- The first question asks whether you want to keep MMP (which is the voting system we use at the moment) or whether you want to change to another voting system.
- The second question asks which of four other voting systems you would choose if New Zealand decides to change from the Mixed Member Proportional (MMP) system:
 - First Past the Post (FPP)
 - Preferential Vote (PV)
 - Single Transferable Vote (STV)
 - Supplementary Member (SM)

To understand these different voting systems, visit the Elections web site:

Job Responsibility

There was a most important job that needed to be done,
And no reason not to do it,
there was absolutely none.
But in vital matters such as this,
the thing you have to ask Is who exactly will it be who'll carry out the task?

Anybody could have told you that everybody knew that this was something somebody would surely have to do.
Nobody was unwilling;
anybody had the ability.
But nobody believed that it was their responsibility.

It seemed to be a job that anybody could have done, If anybody thought he was supposed to be the one.
But since everybody recognised that anybody could, Everybody took for granted that somebody would.

But nobody told anybody that we are aware of, That he would be in charge of seeing it was taken care of.
And nobody took it on himself to follow through, And do what everybody thought that somebody would do.

When what everybody needed so did not get done at all, Everybody was complaining that somebody dropped the ball.
Anybody then could see it was an awful crying shame,
And everybody looked around for somebody to blame.

Somebody should have done the job
And Everybody should have,
But in the end Nobody did What Anybody could have.

Lyttelton Seed Swap

Drop or Swap Seeds - One Week Left

Under the quote “Let’s Grow Lyttelton Beautiful and Bountiful” the lovely Elizabeth from the Lyttelton Library has had this great idea of sharing or swapping seeds. Any seeds!

A simple yet effect premise, here is the plan:

If you have any spare seeds, drop them off;
If you want seeds, come and collect them;
If you want to drop off seeds, and collect seeds too
- then that’s the whole Seed Swap idea!

A box has been set up in the foyer of the Lyttelton Library for people to drop, swap or take seeds. Ideally vegetable, fruit and flower seeds are good, but if you have bulbs or other ideas you would like to add, feel free to do so. As the quote says: Let’s Grow Lyttelton Beautiful and Bountiful !

Seed swap is active from Monday 22nd August to Monday 29th August.

Relocating Abandoned Homes

Site Identified in Governors Bay

The Red Zone Heritage Housing Association is a not-for-profit organization for home owners in Christchurch. They are trying to save old (approximately 100 years) ‘repairable’ homes in the Residential Red Zone.

The plan is to move these houses and their owners to a new location where the homes can be repaired and rejuvenated. By negotiating with CERA as a group they believe that they can obtain the best possible outcome for both the houses and their owners.

A property identified at 156 Main Road, Governors Bay is the sort of area that might be suitable for development into a heritage housing area. The asking price is $900,000 for 8.7 hectares of land in Governor's Bay.

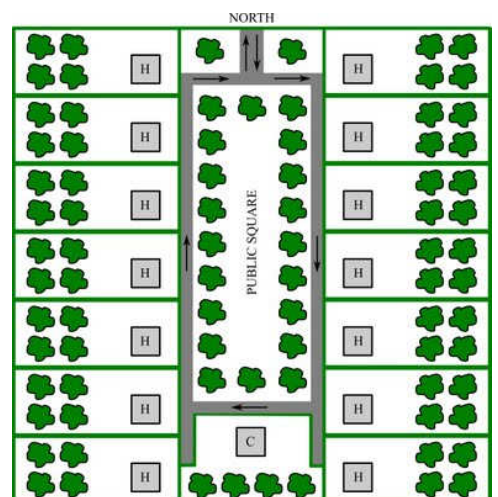

Using the layout suggested by the Red Zone Heritage Housing Association this could be used to site twenty-eight heritage houses on 2000 m² sections, as well as two public squares, each of 6650m², and a couple of community buildings.

At this purchase price, the cost per house could be around $32,000. Even allowing for legal costs and service connection this is still enormously cheaper than buying land anywhere else, and demonstrates the value of developing the properties ourselves on a not-for-profit basis.

Here at the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre we want to beautify the front of our Port-a-Com with a temporary and transportable garden. Does anyone have 2-3 20gallon steel drums [without the lids] that we would use as planters?

- says Wendy and Lynnette 03 328 9093

We are a family of four who are looking to house sit in Lyttelton from the end of October, or early November this year for at least two months. We are respectful of people's property and are willing to do work as a way of reciprocating. We are happy to keep your garden tidy and look after your pets. If you are interested email Jacinda on cins@paradise.net.nz or ring Gunter.

What is Time Banking?

Time Banking is a way of trading skills in a community. It uses time, rather than money, as the measurement tool. Members of a Time Bank share their skills with other members within the community and are given time credits for the work they do. With the credits they gain, each member can 'buy' someone else's time, and get the service they need.

Why Join Lyttelton Time Bank?

Time Banking adds a richness to Time Bankers' lives. As a concept it brings 'wealth', in the form of friendship, caring for one another, having our needs met from within our own community and getting help with things we can't do. Skills that are often taken for granted are valued - especially non-market economy skills - like mothering, basic home help and caring, friendliness, listening.

In Lyttelton as a result of the Time Bank we can see a tighter community forming. Friendships are forming between people of different backgrounds who would not usually have met. The elderly are being cared for and the skills they share are valued. Special needs people are encouraged to participate. Time Banking builds relationships and trust in a community. Everyone has something they can contribute to the wellbeing of the whole.

Everyone's Time is Equal

With Time Banking everybody's time is equal, no matter what type of work is done. 1 = 1. If you give one hour's work, you receive one hour time credit. If you have another member do one hour's work, they are paid one hour time credit. Every person is equally valued.

Here are a few examples of what Lyttelton Harbour residents are giving and receiving this week:

I started a new job this year which requires me to do my own tax and payments. Despite navigating my way around IRD for answers, I'm still muddled. I'm looking for someone to tell me what to do. I have no clue! Help! - says Paul

Six flax plants donated to the Lyttelton Petanque Club site need to be planted into pots and put out at the site. My shoulder will not really allow me to do that dirt lifting so I was hoping someone might be able to help with this. I have the plants and one pot that will take three flax plants so we need to find another good size pot or something fun to plant the other three in. I can get the plants and pot down to Lyttelton Petanque Club. - says Sarah

I made some funky garments which I would like to photograph in the heart of Lyttelton on a fine day. I need some brave outgoing women over 40 size 12/14 who would like to be stylish funky dressed up and offer 2 or 3 hr of their time. If you are interested, please contact me via Timebank. - says Verschnaetti

Anyone like to meet and discuss the big wide world of superannuation, share index investing, futures etc. The main perspective I have engaged in is the Value/Growth investing/long term buy and hold perspective as followed by Warren Buffett, of the USA, and famous as being probably the best investor of all time and a multi billionaire. - says James

Can You Help? Or How Can We Help You?

If you can help with any of these requests, or would like to include a request of your own, please contact the Time Bank team.

It will be anyone's guess on timeframe but they expect it will be at least another two months until they will be cleared to live in their house again (which suffered severe structural damage as well but is still liveable). They are currently house sitting in Auckland but will return to Christchurch on the night of 29 August 2011, and are looking to rent a home, with at least two bedrooms. They recently spent ten weeks in a one bedroom suite above a garage in Morgans Valley which was just too small.
