Happy New Year

From the Review Team

Merry Christmas Lyttelton Harbour.

Thank you for supporting the Lyttelton Review in 2015. We produced 21 issues this year! A quick look back and so much has happened. More significant milestones have been reached enabling community life to be better for many of us.

A quick glance over the year and the return of the pool was a great boost for everyone. New houses are also more noticeable, either complete or nearly completed. and many new retaining walls have been built.. We can think of several new businesses that have opened – Hairport, Honey Comb, 50 Works Gallery and a couple of older businesses that have returned in newly fitted out premises, Harbour Lodge, Lyttelton Seafoods and the Lyttelton Bakery. Lyttelton Primary School is nearing closer to completion and with the addition of the Lyttelton Arts Factory will be something exciting opening in 2016. The church returned, now known as St Saviours at Holy Trinity and the Sea Farers Centre opened.

There has also been quite a lot to celebrate. Some of the things that we reported on included Busy C's turning 20, The Timebank and the Farmers Market celebrating ten years, Roots winning Restaurant of the Year, Project Lyttelton recognised as a significant community organisation in New Zealand and Marlon Williams getting many accolades at the NZ music awards.

In terms of significant government projects Summer Road will be re-opened and the Port Recovery Plan was approved.

Community action enabled the library to remain in town while the former site is repaired and making Lyttelton Plastic Bag free has been high on the radar for others. Community planting returned to our local reserves and the Fruit and Vegetable Collective has continued to be well supported. The year finishes with the Tree of Hope and the amazing generosity of the community sharing their Christmas spirit to cheer up nominated residents and families.

Thanks for a great year. We have enjoyed telling your stories and we both you wish you all a Happy Christmas and relaxing holiday season.

Wendy and Jenny-Lee.

Latest news from the Steam Tug Lyttelton

You might be wondering what is happening with our wonderful old steam tug Lyttelton? Well she is currently the subject of some rigorous inspections to make sure she is in good condition and we can keep sailing her well into the future. These are taking longer than our usual annual survey as there are a couple of issues we need to resolve before we get her certified to take passengers again.

Changes made by Maritime NZ from the Safe Ship Management System under which the Tug was operating, to a new Maritime Operator Safety System, aimed at improving safety in marine transport, has meant operators and their contracted surveyors have more tests and more work to do. The impact of these changes has resulted in delays to work scheduled for both the boiler and other areas of the vessel, necessary to ensure that we comply with the new regulations, and maintain our Certificate of Survey. The fact that the Tug Lyttelton was built in 1907, and very much 'one of a kind' further complicates matters with Maritime NZ, when our application for renewal is viewed by them compared against more 'modern' vessels.

We are having ongoing discussions with our Marine Surveyor, our repair contractors and Maritime New Zealand to determine what changes must be made, if any, to comply with the latest regulations, and what costs we have to incur to meet them.

We are well through these discussions but sadly this situation has caused a significant delay this year to our on-the-water activities, including our Harbour cruises which would have normally started at the beginning of January. The date for resuming our normal sailing operation is therefore uncertain. We are hoping to operate a few Harbour Cruises towards the end of our normal sailing season in March or April 2016. If this is not possible we will be re-commencing normal operations for charters towards the end of 2016 and Harbour Cruises early in 2017.

In the meantime we are continuing with our normal routine maintenance. For a gold coin donation visitors are welcome to come down and see the Tug when the maintenance team is at work most Thursday mornings. The Tug is also still available for charter for functions alongside the wharf. After a recent birthday party alongside the participants said they enjoyed their time onboard almost as much as they would have sailing around on the Harbour. It must still be one of the best venues in Lyttelton!

Charter rates are competitive and anyone wishing to charter the Tug alongside the wharf can make enquiries by telephone on (03) 332 6368.

Drainage Bench Maintenance Plan

Urumau Reserve

For the last 10 years Urumau Reserve maintenance has been looked after by the Parks Unit of the City Council. Whilst the reserve was managed by the Reserves Management Committee they had no influence on how the maintenance of the reserve was managed. Contractors would cut the grass on the bench track and slopes below just above Foster Terrace and that was about all that happened. Contractors were cutting the grass with little supervision and clear specifications. Often native plantings in the grass below the drainage bench were destroyed. The cut grass would then be left to build up and as a consequence blocked the drains and so subsequently residents encountered problems during heavy rains. During this entire period apart from residents clearing the drains there is no record of the drains having been cleared in this time.

This year the maintenance contract at the council went out for tender. The Parks Unit no longer have control over the reserve maintenance. At the Reserves Management Committee meeting on December 14th the Committee was finally notified that maintenance work was no longer with the Parks team. For the first time the committee is now in a position to determine how the maintenance is to be done and they can instruct the Regional Parks team, other contractors or volunteers on what is required.

After years of poor work the Committee wants a more comprehensive approach to maintenance. A sub-committee has been set up for this purpose. It is envisaged that the following points will be considered.

Priority One - Drainage

Number one priority will be ensuring the drains are maintained correctly. We do not want unintended consequences of water flowing into adjoining properties because the drains are blocked. In consultation with the Council's land drainage area supervisor the following regime will be implemented. The concrete drains will be cleared of debris 4-6 times per year. The bank above the drain will be cut with a brush cutter to 1 metre above the drain 3 -4 times per year. A grass swarf of approximately 50 mm will be maintained in this part of the bank. It will not be shaved down to the roots because when it does rain, the bank will erode-and the drains will block with the mud. The adjoining grass bench will be mown to a width of approximately 3 metres. This regime will begin in January 2016.

Priority Two -Fire

Attention to fire reduction is next. So the grass on the drainage bench does not dry out so quickly, it will be cut to approximately 100mm. A thicker cover will mean the grass does not dry out so quickly. It will reduce the fire risk. This is only part of the fire protection area. The long term aim of our fire plan is to create a plant barrier between the residential boundaries and the drainage bench. A green plant belt is more fire resistant. This planting project was started before the earthquakes and has now resumed again. It will be a work in progress over the next few years. New plants will be sheltered from the intense summer heat by grass. For this reason we will not be cutting the grass down to the fence lines. If residents are concerned they will need to ensure their back yards are well watered and cleared of inflammable material. Fire generally burns uphill!

Priority Three – Recreation

We want to ensure that paths are fit for purpose. Adequate drainage will ensure the paths do not erode by rain fall. Suitable surfaces will ensure paths are suitable for both bikes and walkers. .

Priority Four – Amenity

The Reserve is part of a Regional Park System. It is not an urban park. Grass areas will not be mown to look like lawn. There will be sections of forest, open grasslands and paths. The long term aim for the reserve is that forest will eventually cover the entire site. When this happens the forest is more resilient to fire and the fire risk will lessen year by year.

What Happens Next?

Between the committee and the rangers a plan will be developed to ensure the maintenance is carried out on a regular basis. It could very well be that the Reserves Management Committee undertake some of the work on a voluntary basis and other work will be contracted to the Regional Parks team or other approved contractors.

Rushani's Needs Your Help

As you may know, we have been working hard this year to try and open a cafe in Lyttelton. We have met with many hurdles along the way, and learned heaps in the process. We are now at an advanced stage of planning with a very special venue right in the heart of Lyttelton. We just know this is going to be a huge success and fill that gap in the market for a peaceful place with excellent service and quality food that so many of you have been telling us you want. The final hurdle for us now is to get past all the council regulations, and that is why we are reaching out for help now. Because we are doing a full fit out of an empty premises, the consent process is far more complex than we had envisioned (not to mention far more expensive). Perhaps you are able to help us with this? In return we can offer catering, meal vouchers, even piano tuition for your children (which we can offer through our other business, The Creative Collective)... What we need, as far as we can work out, is...

- An architect to do some technical drawings in order to obtain a building consent (these should be minimal though as it is a small single-room space and our designer has already done all the concepts.) We have also been told that we will require a resource consent for the fireplace flue and for the extraction unit, and perhaps an architect could also help with this.
- A fire engineer to assess and report on fire requirements under section 115 (again this should be minimal as the landlord already has extensive documentation from another fire engineer from when he was renovating the premises after the earthquake, during which time he had commercial use firmly in mind)
- An acoustic engineer to assess and report on the noise levels associated with our kitchen extract system
- A ventilation engineer to provide assessment and reporting on the ventilation requirements of the site
- Allegedly we may also need a structural engineer, but the building is certified up to 100%NBS with a code of compliance certificate, so perhaps we would just need this person to assure council that they are not needed!

In addition to the above, we would love to hear from you if you have any skills which you think might prove useful in a cafe/restaurant fit out: in particular, sign-writing, cushion-making, wallpaper-hanging, plumbing, electrical, or any experience that might be of use.

We really hope that the community can get behind us with this, so even if you are unable to help us with any of the above, perhaps you know of someone who may be able to. Any assistance will be greatly appreciated, and we are sure we can return the effort involved in our own way.

The future of Lyttelton is looking bright, so if you can help, please get in touch via email - rushani@rushanis.co.nz, or by mobile - 022 0134 099.

Cake for Greatness #27

Introducing Scotty! Our 27th Cake for Greatness recipient and final recipient for the year. Scotty was nominated for starting up Rotten Radio. Its really amazing to have our own radio station in Lyttelton as it really does add something very special to our community. His dedication to the Punk Rock ethos has been appreciated by many as it proves that anybody can have a go and make a successful project, that you don't have to be perfect to succeed, you just need to want to have fun and something worthwhile will always happen. He's also been nominated for having the nicest eyes out of anyone in Lyttelton and I think a few people would like to share the cake with him whilst gazing in each others eyes in the candlelight.

Cake for Greatness wouldn't exist without nominations from our community. If you know of any unsung heroes please send me a nomination. You can send me a private message here or through my website; www.rushanis.co.nz

Nearly a house fire. Check your Mirrors

Anne Parkinson lives high on the hill in Lyttelton, and the window shown in this picture faces south, and is downstairs in her spare bathroom, where there is a magnifying mirror close to the window.

Anne had no idea when this actually happened, but it looks as though she was very lucky that the magnification of the sun was not quite strong enough to start a fire – but it was close.

There is now a cover on the mirror!!

Naval Point Marine and Rescue Centre Building Committee

Update Report December 2015

What a busy year it has been for the Naval Point Club / Canterbury Coastguard combined new building committee.

This time last year we had no idea what was to be thrown at us in the Port Recovery Plan and District Plan Review processes. It has certainly felt like two steps forward and one back for most of the year. The following is a summary of where we are at.

Port Recovery Plan

Last month the Lyttelton Port Recovery Plan was adopted by the Minister of Earthquake Recovery. Although this Plan excluded the land at Naval Point it did achieve some very positive outcomes. Most significantly the proposed cruise ship berth at Naval Point was excluded from the Plan. The proposal for reclamation and port expansion east was adopted as was better public access, a marina and associated commercial development in Dampier Bay. We were not able to have the Naval Point land included in the Port Recovery Plan. We had sought this as a way to expedite our development plans and ensure the existing protection for recreational marine activities was maintained. Instead this land is to have a new zone under the Christchurch City Council's new District Plan. The area of land owned by Lyttelton Port Company next to the reserve was also proposed to be zoned from Boat Harbour Zone to Port Activities. In response to the Club's and other submissions the Plan has imposed significant restrictions on the use of this land to better support recreational boating.

District Plan Review

This Plan included the Naval Point (Boat Harbour zoned) area and proposed a new zone called Open Space – Metropolitan Facilities. While the new zone was enabling in terms of permitting similar activities to the current zone it did not provide the same protection for recreational boating activities that the Boat Harbour Zone had established. Through the submissions of the Club, Coastguard and others and by working directly with Council staff we have been able to have the zone rules amended significantly. This will mean we are able to support the changes and avoid an expensive and time consuming court process. Importantly the zone will enable the activities we require while preventing inappropriate or competing activities to establish in the area. This is important to ensure space is available long term to meet the needs marine recreation activities.

Naval Point Area Planning

Despite the progress above there remain some considerable hurdles to be overcome before a site for the new building can even be considered. Christchurch City Council has begun a process to develop an overall plan for the future development of the Naval Point area. This is important work and it will be critical that Club/Coastguard facilities, public and Club launching and rigging facilities, public access, vehicle access and parking, boat maintenance and storage facilities are all accommodated and carefully planned. It is essential that the long term needs for recreational marine activities and growth is appropriately considered. As key stakeholders the Club, together with Lyttelton Port Company, is keen to provide all the assistance possible to ensure this important planning process is successful. Unfortunately this process has been delayed primarily due to concerns about potential hazards at the nearby tank farm. Such concerns were raised unexpectedly by fuel companies during the Port Recovery Plan process. A Quantitative Risk Assessment (QRA) is now being undertaken by the Christchurch City Council in collaboration with the fuel industry. This is likely to take 6 months or more. Land contamination reports are also being obtained by CCC on the Naval Point area. Once these and the QRA results are available we anticipate progress can then be made quickly on an overall plan for the Naval Point area.

Naval Point Marine and Rescue Centre Trust

Other significant milestones for the Joint Building Committee this year has been the finalisation of a Trust Deed to bring into existence the entity that will own and manage the new building. Although this seems very straight forward it has been challenging from a legal perspective. It has been very important to ensure that the Trust will have and retain charitable status if it is to be able to gain the level of support from the community that will be necessary to ensure the project is a success. The hard work on this has now been done and the final step in the process is the selection and appointment of the Trust's founding Trustees.

Looking Ahead to 2016

Priorities for the Naval Point Marine and Rescue Centre Building Committee next year are the following:

Appoint Trustees and establish the Naval Point Marine and Rescue Centre Trust.

Work with key stakeholders to establish an overall development plan for the Naval Point area including identification of a building site.

Commence fundraising feasibility and confirm a budget.

Commence fundraising for the new building.

Where	Gilmour Terrace, Lyttelton
When	The road will be closed on Tuesday 22 December for one day

Where:

What:

Before we can begin wastewater repairs on Gilmour Terrace we first need to carry out camera investigations to the wastewater main. Between 8am and 5pm on Tuesday 22 December the road will be closed from 12 Gilmour Terrace up to the culdersac. Because of the narrow road width it will not be possible to allow vehicles past our worksite. Please park outside the road closure if you need to use your car between 8am-5pm on Tuesday 22 December. Pedestrian access will be available past the worksite and to properties at all times. We apologise for any inconvenience during these essential earthquake repairs.
