Review Creators

Lyttelton Harbour Review is a 100% voluntary community newsletter initiative developed after the February 2011 earthquake. It's a Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre initiative produced by Chairperson Wendy Everingham and Committee Member Jenny-Lee Love.

The objective of the Lyttelton Harbour Review is to help keep local residents informed with what is going on in the wider Lyttelton Harbour community. Of course the success of the Lyttelton Harbour Review could not be possible without the ongoing support and enthusiasm from the wider community.

A big thank you goes out to everyone who sends information; is willing to be interviewed or lets us know what might be happening in the neighbourhood. The Lyttelton Harbour Review project would not be possible without you all.

If you have an event, topic, sport announcement, fundraiser or cause that you would like to share with the harbour community, then Wendy or Jenny-Lee would love to hear from you:

Community Solutions Sought Recreation Centre

The Recreation Centre opened again in Lyttelton early in the year. In general there has been great feedback that this facility is open again. Operationally however the centre functions quite differently to what we were used to prior to the earthquakes. At that time council employed a full time staff member to manage the site. Due to budgetary restrictions this isn't the case now. Lyttelton Harbour now has a part time Community Recreation Advisor and that role does not include managing this site for the community, rather helping us transition to a community led model.

Earlier in the year names were sought from people who would like to be involved in a working party. A diverse group of locals met for the first time recently. Conversations were equally diverse and broad. We learnt from Recreation Advisor Trisha Ventom that many things are negotiable as we move forward. There is the possibility of our community looking after all access and booking functions at the centre. We could even manage the entire facility including the maintenance and operational costs!

To get a clearer path forward the working party are exploring how other communities manage their halls, sports places. At our next meeting on August 30th we'll learn how Diamond Harbour and possibly Aranui manage their spaces.

Community Pool Lifeguards Season 2016/17

Last year our community was very enthusiastic to utilise the new pool to its maximum capacity.

Richard Homer and Dorje McKinnon were the catalyst's to move this conversation forward. A community meeting was held facilitated by the Lyttelton Harbour Timebank and a clear desire was expressed that the community and council explore the idea of fully trained Timebank Lifeguards and a flexible key system to enable pool operating hours to be longer.

The Lifeguard option was trialled in the 2015/16 season and as a result Lyttelton had eight people trained for free by the council as part of a Timebank initiative. This was a huge commitment from the volunteers involved. Well over 80 hours were spent getting their qualification. Unlike regular lifeguards no costs were incurred individually for the training as this was provided free by the council as part of their membership of the Timebank.

Recently some of the lifeguard team and council staff got together to review the past season and to plan for the next. Whilst the first season of operation has lots to be improved the council is very keen for Time banker's to play a role at the pool into the future. Roles will get clearer with time but first tasks for local lifeguards last season were assisting Lyttelton Primary Learn to Swim Days and providing additional swimming hours during January on Saturday mornings. Rather than the pool opening at 11am, the start time was 9am giving the wider community an extra two hours of swim time per week.

As well as being an operational lifeguard Richard, assisted by a small working group, also wrote a proposal to the council detailing how a key operating system might work. His idea was supported in the Long Term Council Plan. Council Sport and Recreation team has now signed off on the concept and are currently waiting on their legal team to provide direction on how it would work this season. We hope this might see the community being able to purchase a key for pool use outside normal CCC pool operating hours assisted by Timebank lifeguards fulfilling all the legal requirements for pool operations such as testing water quality.

So whilst operating hours and the exact models for pool operation this year aren't finalised, planning is definitely underway for this season. Some things that are decided, there will be some new equipment, additional umbrella's storage, tables etc. Dorje is also keen to facilitate better events and food at the pool making Lyttelton a destination for swimmers. A representative from the Sport and Recreation Team supported this idea.

To move things along the Timebank and the CCC Sport and Recreation staff are keen to hear from any community members who would like to be trained as community lifeguards this season. All the training is free including First Aid Training. Local St John President Pete Dawson announced that good piece of news at the Community Board meeting this week.

Please contact Wendy Everingham from the Lyttelton Harbour Timebank 328 9093 or timebank@lyttelton.net.nz if you are keen to explore these training opportunities and be part of the community pool team..

Air Quality on Norwich Quay

Air quality monitoring has been undertaken in Norwich Quay by Environment Canterbury since the beginning of the year. The Community Board was briefed on the findings to date at their meeting on August 17th.

The board was told that concentrations of gases and particles are measured every minute of the day at a recording station on the corner of Norwich Quay and Canterbury Street. Gases measured include sulphur dioxide, nitrogen dioxide and carbon monoxide. The particles measured include fine and coarse. The findings show that while all gases and particle measurements are below NZ standards there is a higher concentration of coarse particles in the air. The coarser particles can give some people upper respiratory problems.

Councillor Turner questioned if the team could identify the sources of the organic material. He was told the measuring equipment doesn't highlight the exact sources of the organic material but sources are usually associated with unpaved surfaces, demolition / construction materials and industry.

From September 1 the NZTA introduces a bylaw that ensures all truck loads in the tunnel are covered. It will be interesting to see if this requirement will make a difference to the air quality.

At the end of the study ECAN will be able to work with local business to put in place better dust management plans to reduce the levels of Pm 2.5-10 particles. It was pleasing to know that exhaust fumes and woodburners contributed a very minor role to air pollution in Lyttelton.

Planting Continues at Urumau Reserve

The Lyttelton Reserves Management Team had another successful planting day at Urumau Reserve on Sunday August 14th. Fifteen community members enjoyed a day in the sunshine planting our locally sourced native plants. To date we have planted an additional 82 plants this season.

Councillor Andrew Turner popped up to see the work and to check on the plants he'd planted the previous year. We have another two planting days remaining. Lyttelton Primary seniors will be involved and then the final community planting day for the season will be Sunday September 11th.

The Lyttelton Venus A Glimpse into an Artistic Project

Julia Holden is hosting this special art event at the Lyttelton Arts Factory to raise awareness of her Lyttelton Redux project that will be in full swing

November of this year. Present-day Lyttelton residents have been recreated as characters and notable historical figures with Lyttelton connectons. The 20+ photographic portraits will displayed in various Lyttelton businesses over the summer period. The works will be available for sale as high quality prints, posters, calendars and cards, with the proceeds going towards supporting the re-establishment of the Lyttelton Museum.

Burglaries Up Please Report ALL Incidents

Lyttelton residents Paul Dietsche and Brett Partel made a deputation to the Community Board regarding the level of theft experienced in Lyttelton recently. Paul had not been burgled but was concerned by the amount of postings on facebook reporting businesses or residents who had experienced problems.

Brett detailed how his trailer had been stolen in broad daylight. It was apparently one of many that have recently been taken.

"I am the local school caretaker, I'm seeing increased incidences of tagging, broken glass, vandalism around the grassy, skate park and general surrounds" he said.

Senior Sergeant Alan McDaniels was also at the meeting and told the board "that there was no silver bullet to these issues. Burglaries are increasing all around the city". In the Canterbury region burglaries had increased from 4200 to 5400. In Lyttelton during the month of May he said there were 26 reports whereas in February there were none" he said.

He suggested a couple of things to help the situation:

Eliminate soft targets – for example a trailer on the street is very easy to steal, try and always have a locked place.

Install alarms

Lock your doors

Call 3637400 to report crime

Help our First Responders Give the Bays Better Ambulance Support

Pete Dawson the Chair of St John's Banks Peninsula highlighted that Lyttelton no longer has an ambulance team on site.

"It's been this way since the earthquakes and now with funding shortfalls the only way St John can cover the city adequately is by having ambulances posted around the city in an almost "just in time" scenario" he said.

He's most unhappy about this outcome. As a result St John has purchased a fully equipped rapid response unit for this area. This is a fully equipped car that can respond to a situation but not transport a patient to hospital. "This type of service would mean that a patient who needs help can be reached very quickly with the ambulance following along afterwards." he said,

To make this sort of service work it requires a trained person and extra money. St John is about to begin a campaign to make this happen. Maybe you have a business that would sponsor this service? Maybe it could become a function of an employee of a locally based business? You could donate some funding.

A campaign will be launched shortly.

Roots Restaurant Cuisine Restaurant Awards

After being named New Zealand Restaurant of the Year in 2015, Roots has gone on to be awarded 3 hats in this Year's Cuisine Awards. This is the highest standard to be awarded. Congratulations to Guilio, Christy and their team.

Boat Launch August 30th Welcome F.V Endeavour

Andrew Stark the Chief Executive of Stark Bros Ltd, Lyttelton confirmed their new 17.2 metre Steel Fishing Trawler - F.V. ENDEAVOUR, will be launched on Tuesday 30th August 2016.

The vessel, designed and built in their Lyttelton Ship Building facility is for Ocean Fisheries Ltd, an associated company of some 49 years.

"The name "Endeavour" has strong historical links to Lyttelton and New Zealand, and its dictionary definition also in many ways reflects my family's business attitude of achievements and aspirations" said Andrew.

With the ongoing drought of new fishing trawlers in NZ, the FV Endeavour is the latest in the line of new fishing vessels from Stark Bros building shed – from the FV Frontier in 2004, the FV Jubilee in 2008, the FV Nessie J in 2009, the FV Legacy in 2012.

"The FV ENDEAVOUR is a multi-million dollar investment in the inshore fishing industry, the sector providing the vast majority of New Zealand's fresh fish, promoting fresh, sustainable, wild caught, restaurant quality fish for NZ and the world" Andrew said..

The FV ENDEAVOUR is state of the art, developed from the strong boat building and inshore fishing knowledge the "Starks" have amassed in 58 years of boat building and 49 years of inshore fishing.

The official launch at 3pm will be a guest only event as the boat is within the port security zone. Members of the public will be able to view the event from Sutton Quay or the lookout above the dry dock in Brittan Terrace.

Another Interesting Club! The Little Ship Club of Canterbury

The Little Ship Club of Canterbury has been supplying the Lyttelton Review information on their activities for quite some time. One of many community groups based around our harbour this group has been running since 1961! Viki Moore is the current President and she tells us that the group was initially inspired by a navigation & seamanship class which was run by the Canterbury Workers Educational Association. To this day the CWEA still exists and is instrumental in Christchurch wide community education.

"Since our inception all those years ago the aim of our Club hasn't changed. It's all about facilitating a broad range of activities that increases the knowledge, skills and enjoyment of members and that has the added effect of benefiting yachting generally" she said.

Just to give you an indication of the broad range of activities the club has on offer, this is the programme for the remainder of the year:

3 September Advanced Sea Survival Course

15 September All About Rigging

14 October Marine Medic Course

20 October AGM

23 October Club Raft Up - Diamond Harbour

17 November Ben Gough and the Global Challenge

Looking back through past events the club has held some really interesting talks. In November 2015 they hosted former musician and radio presenter Andrew Fagan. Members heard all about his adventures on Swirly World – his 5.4 metre plywood yacht, which he sailed solo around New Zealand and down to the Auckland Islands. 3000 nautical miles in two months, facing all sorts of dire situations! His sailing efforts were detailed in a book called "Swirly World Sails South".

Local Nancy Vance was the guest speaker in July. Nancy told the members about her adventures on the canals of Holland with her husband Matt. This trip was inspired by reading an article in Boating New Zealand about a couple who had done something similar, the seed was planted in their minds and they hatched a plan and made it happen.

Viki naturally is passionate about sailing and the opportunities it brings. She really enjoys meeting the visitors that pop in and out of the club and the sharing that goes on between the members. "Many of our members have had some incredible adventures on the Ocean, and it is great to be able to share that knowledge and connect with other people who also have a love for cruising"

Everyone is welcome to come along to their gatherings.

Want to Join?

The Annual membership fee is $20. You can pay this directly to Treasurer Sue Stubenvol at a meeting. Club members meet on the 3rd Thursday of the month usually at Naval Point Club Lyttelton from 7.00pm. ## News from the LHBA Networking Meetings

Showcasing our Local Business's

Taff & Jess of Harmans Lawyers took us on a rocket fuelled overview of some of the common legislation that affects all our businesses. They conveyed a phenomenal amount of information in their 15 minutes and took a good number of questions from the floor, which then continued when we broke into tables, each person asking questions about legal aspects that affect their businesses and lives.

Some of the highlights...

- H&S - If you have 20+ Employees or are in a high risk industry, then there are very formal rules that you now have to follow, and you should already have these procedures in place. If you are smaller than 20 Employees, you still have new standards that you need to follow to be sure that everyone knows it is everyone's responsibility to improve the safety of workplaces, and your policies that are in place to make this a reality.
- IP & Trademark - Did you know that Cadbury trademarked the particular PANTONE colour of purple in their chocolate packaging and fights Nestle for this right in countries around the world? What constitutes your brand within your market, and how can you stop your competition from using your brand in their marketing is a topic that many need legal help to clarify & defend.
- Leases - Consider all the aspects of your lease before you sign: Everything from car parking, to current classified use, to the term of renewal & how the new rent fees will be determined are important to assure they fit your business needs. For example: rent may be determined with a market review - which could actually see your rent decrease on review, or on CPI (consumer price index, one way of measuring inflation) which normally increases over time.

- Employment contracts - Compulsory for all employees. A good place to start when writing your employee contracts is the Employment New Zealand Government division's Employment Contract Builder tool at eab.business.govt.nz which will walk you through the sections of a typical employment agreement, including notifications for what parts are mandatory, recommended or optional. One thing to consider carefully are restraints of trade clauses - especially for trade businesses.
- Share Holders Agreements (SHAGS) - If your business is owned by more than one person and you don't have one of these you need to make it a priority - especially if the other shareholders are family members. Exit strategies & dispute resolution are important and their need is rarely seen before you need them. If expectations are set from the beginning, then family investors, partners, or any shareholder can gracefully exit when the time comes.

If you are looking for highly personable, approachable, and knowledgeable lawyers with years of experience then you've found them. You can get hold of Taff, Jess & the Harmans team at www.harmans.co.nz/contact

Showcasing our Local Business's

Donna Roy took us on the journey of her path into her business The Healing Dimension and her new life in Lyttelton.

After an early career in the PA, secretarial & customer service fields for corporate and government agencies, Donna experienced a series of large, life changing events that resulted in a complete change in direction for her life.

Following her intuition every step of the way from then on, she committed to formal training as a massage therapist while working full time and raising her two daughters. Accepting her spiritual side and expressing it in her massage led to significant business growth, allowing her to become a full time massage therapist. She has learnt to use her clairvoyant and medium skills as a key way to determine and implement the correct healing path of treatment for her clients.

This year, Donna wrapped up her business in Wellington and sold her house to make the move to Lyttelton to be with her partner Dave. Her business now operates out of her Addington clinic, Wednesday through Saturday.

LHBA Committee members

The LHBA is looking for new committee members to help shape the direction of the association. We meet on the second Tuesday of each month from 5:30 - 6:30pm in the Structex meeting room (the next meeting is on Sept 13th). Any member of the LHBA can join the committee - no experience or formal position required. Two particular projects that could use some attention are quarterly evening member events, and someone to help with advocacy matters when they arise.

LHBA AGM

We are looking at Tuesday Sept 20th at 5:30pm as the date and time for the annual LHBA AGM. We'll let you know the venue & details when they are confirmed.

Abduction

Slim woke up this morning feeling that there was something he should be doing; something, but he knew not quite what it was. His mother was sleek, fast and clever and never seemed to wonder about the meaning of life. Reasons for leaving her roosting place nearly always involved either skilled flying, fishing or basking in the sun with wings outstretched. Slim often tried to follow her but struggled to keep up with her superior expertise. She told him that he thought too much; and should just get on with things.

He was tall for his age and a bit gangly; his feet seemed too far big for his body and he didn't know where to look when his elders spoke to him. But he did know in his birdy bones that there was more to life than Pine Trees and fishing. This morning as his mother flew low over the sparkling waters in search of an unwary fish or two, he flip flapped along the wharf to the steps where that noisy boat sometimes berthed. A roaring sound echoed over the harbour as the ferry skimmed the waves towards him, tying up at the bottom of the steps. The roof was tantalisingly close to him and he thought he would hop on for a minute; just to see how the land looked from a different perspective. Then horror of horrors, the boat began its return journey with him, clinging for dear life, to his insecure post on top of the cabin.

Nobody noticed him. There was no way he could launch himself into the waves. And anyway he was much too scared. The catamaran sped relentlessly towards the busy port on the other side of his quiet water. He had known something was going to happen today but he just hadn't known what. What his mother would think he could only imagine. She would not be pleased. Her only son missing; Gone without trace. As Slim thought these thoughts he took in the Heads floating on the horizon and the cut of the hills glowing in the sunshine. He could see his wharf from a distant perspective and was able to acknowledge how beautiful it really was. The boat slowed down as it entered another harbour, a smaller space, protected from the open inlet but full of working vessels. Cranes buzzed around feeding greedy container ships, which devoured the rusty boxes like hungry metal monsters stocking up on rations to last them for their voyage across the globe. Piles of logs stacked up at the quayside waited for massive grabs to pick them up and deposit them into the hold; these reminiscent of fairground ones which rarely seized the targeted goodies one was aiming for! All these things Slim took in. Just then, out of the corner of his eye, he noticed a colony of birds similar to him lounging on the damaged harbour arm. They saw him as he phutted by (the ferry now slowed down in the contained space); they shouted "Jump and flap little bird". And so he did!

It transpired that these Shags were slightly different from his family, sporting rather fetching crests on top of their heads. Nevertheless they were very friendly and shared much harbour gossip and information about the human comings and goings in the Port. He heard about the new ramps and steps which some people found hard to hurry up on their way to the bus; and the proposed moving of the ferry to further round the bay. They would be sad about that as it would take some of their entertainment away. They also told him of the friendly dolphins who often played in the harbour, surprising passengers by popping up beside the ferry every now and again and explained that this had been a family gathering place because of the lighthouse, which had lived there before the earthquakes decimated this protective wharf.

Slim digested all these things and thought how he would have much to tell his mother when he returned. Then a terrible thought came upon him. How would he return? His new friends told him not to worry, that they would fly and swim with him to the Ferry berth where he could wait for the next trip back to his home. True to their word they escorted him to the landing where he waited patiently only to find the other larger boat was making the trip.

No problem, he stood in the doorway and as it opened, flip flapped inside. The Skipper, John, looked a bit surprised and even joked about a ticket but in the end he relented and let him ride for nothing. When the boat arrived at Diamond Harbour Wharf, Slim slip slopped onto the familiar steps and found his mother waiting hopefully.

'Where have you been' she remonstrated, 'I have been so worried about you'.

'I was abducted' said Slim with a sly grin. 'The Ferry abducted me to Lyttelton'. But I have come back!

THE GARAGE SALE

Although the Garage Sale is a fund-raising project, there is so much more that it creates for our community.

One day, I saw a group of boys playing in the skate park next door. An older boy brought a young one up to the Garage Sale, worried about him because he had fallen off his skateboard. He didn't have a helmet or any money to get one. There were no parents around. But this older boy had realised that the Garage Sale might be able to help this kid out. I found a helmet that fitted him and said he could have it for free. The other kids hanging around all wanted something for free then, of course. So I let them take one each from the box of free toys.

Kids see the Garage Sale as a safe place to go when they've lost their parents after school or to ask for help.

Work notice: Sutton Quay, Lyttelton, retaining wall repairs

What	Repairs to the earthquake damaged heritage retaining wall
Where	Sutton Quay, Lyttelton
When	From August until December

Where:

How we will fix the wall:

- A ramp has been installed to sit the drill rig on.
- Stonemasons will deconstruct the heritage parapet wall.
- Soil nails will be installed. This involves drilling and grouting a series of fibreglass bars into the soil or rock behind the retaining wall. The nails help strengthen the wall.
- Dual layers of shotcrete will be applied. Shotcrete is a mixture of cement, aggregate, and water conveyed by compressed air to a spray gun.
- Stonemasons will rebuild the heritage parapet wall.

How we install soil nails:

1. A drill rig will drill a hole into the soil behind the wall.

2. The soil nail will be installed in the drilled hole and grouted.

3. After the grout has cured the soil nail can be tested.
