Review Creators

Lyttelton Harbour Review is a 100% voluntary community newsletter initiative developed after the February 2011 earthquake. It's a Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre initiative produced by Chairperson Wendy Everingham and Committee Member Jenny-Lee Love.

The objective of the Lyttelton Harbour Review is to help keep local residents informed with what is going on in the wider Lyttelton Harbour community. Of course the success of the Lyttelton Harbour Review could not be possible without the ongoing support and enthusiasm from the wider community.

A big thank you goes out to everyone who sends information; is willing to be interviewed or lets us know what might be happening in the neighbourhood. The Lyttelton Harbour Review project would not be possible without you all.

If you have an event, topic, sport announcement, fundraiser or cause that you would like to share with the harbour community, then Wendy or Jenny-Lee would love to hear from you:

Holiday time has arrived for the Review team.

Another big year. As always thank you to our contributors, readers and sponsors for your support during the year.

The Review won't return until February 2018. Meantime we wish you all a happy holidays season and safe break.

The Year in Brief

Fruit and Vegetable Collective

The Lyttelton Fruit and Vegetable Collective has been running successfully for three years! It's thanks to an initiative from the Linwood Affordable Fruit and Vegetable Group that our town has benefitted hugely. The Linwood group initially went seeking community partners to supply fruit and vegetables. This hub now supplies thirteen different community centres around the east and south east of Christchurch weekly with a great supply of affordable fruit and vegetables. Groups involved include Delta Trust, St Chads, Heathcote Community, Woolston and the Lyttelton Timebank.

The entire scheme is run by community to support community.

At the main hub in Bromley the people who organise the orders, purchase the produce and then pack it for all the centres are volunteers. In Lyttelton all the on ground work is done by Timebankers. For most of the year round forty households participate in the scheme. The majority are young families with a few older residents. To cater for both groups there are large and small packs available.

To make it happen in Lyttelton the project requires people to drive the community truck to collect the produce, distribute the vegetables, promote the scheme and maintain the orders. Over the year Wi Peepe, Brian Downey and Reuben Romany have driven the Project Lyttelton truck each Wednesday to pick up the weekly orders from Bromley. When the orders get back to Lyttelton they are dropped off at either the Lyttelton Information Centre or the Garage Sale. That is all very weather dependent. Where ever the truck delivers orders to in Lyttelton the site becomes a nice community hub. The Garage Sale and the Information Centre then get the benefits of meeting people who might never have come through their doors.

To greet our residents each week is Jan Cooper. She's worked nearly every Wednesday for the year between 12.30 and 2.30pm so that our locals can collect their orders. "The stand out for me is the people keep coming." Jan also loves to see people's faces when they discover the surprises in their packs each week. Personally Jan likes doing this work. "I like interacting with the town's younger families. Being a pensioner this role enables me to meet them and get to know them" she said. Some Wednesday's Jan is also joined by a friend and together they distribute the produce and have lovely conversations with everyone who comes in the door.

When Jan packs up after her two hours the task of the remaining bags is then handed over to the Information Centre volunteers. Often it's late Friday afternoon before all the packs are collected. Anything that hasn't been collected by the is given away to a lucky person.

All the administration at this end is shared between Jill Larking, Wendy Everingham and Sue-Ellen Sandilands. Between them they get the new orders to Linwood, return bags, and bank the money. Quite a few people are involved to make this initiative work!

Jill Larking from the Timebank has been the main coordinator at the Lyttelton end. Timebank connections have filled all the roles needed to make the scheme work in Lyttelton. The Linwood group have also joined the Timebank network. The benefit hasn't been quite so great for them but every now and then someone will help over that side of town with a request they may have.

Over the years Lyttelton has steered the orders to be more plastic bag free. Great cloth bag sewing initiatives have enabled this to happen. There are hiccups sometimes when members fail to return bags. A non-returned bag means a plastic one is used! Next year that's all going to change. Des Robinson the instigator of the entire project has arranged plastic crates for all orders. Customers will have to bring their own bags and they will be filled from each individualised crate.

Jill looks back over the year this past year and is pretty pleased how everything has gone. "I still enjoy meeting the new people who sign up. It gives me a wider view of our community. I love the easy nature of the scheme and like the Time Bank the fruit and vegetable scheme is pretty easy to be involved with. I think the produce has been really great this year".

There will be a Christmas break from December 13th and orders will start up again on January 10th. If you are keen to participate pop into the Lyttelton Information Centre for a sign-up sheet.

Lyttelton Recreation Centre Activation

Project Lyttelton and Christchurch City Council will be working together to reinvent the Lyttelton Recreation Centre. The focus of the centre will be wellbeing in its broadest sense. Project Lyttelton and the local council governance team share a vision of a vibrant community centre where people of all ages, from all parts of our community feel at home, a place which is truly “our place”, is accessible, warm and offers a diversity of programmes, events and short- and long-term tenants. The centre will continue to be a place people can come to for recreation (sports, yoga, martial arts and so on) as well as being a base for Plunket and the Toy Library. However, it also has the potential to offer so much more to the community. If you have ideas, questions or contributions you would like to make, you can do this in person – email margaret@lyttelton.net.nz to make a time – or online at https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSc0fyMkw7XArQG1EXNECM61J1g-L3oO8YAdV\_A34UkcwgDNnQ/viewform

Advertising in the Review

Since the inception of the Lyttelton Review we have been very generous with advertising. Any one off advertisements for businesses have generally been published free. Advertisers are encouraged to make a donation to our volunteer organisation.

To be a permanently listed business in the directory and have articles written about your business we have a yearly membership fee of $165 including GST. If you would like to have a yearly listing please contact us infocentre@lyttelton.net.nz and we will forward our membership application.

Lyttelton Summer Fest

Project Lyttelton is putting together an exciting programme for the 2018 SummerFest, with a brand new outdoor film series. Other events will include a "creative sampler-COOKING" day of short workshops, Strange Bedfellows and the Community Grown Dinner.

Films will be shown every Friday evening throughout February, with entertainment, music, a suitcase market and food available. Albion Square, The Rose Garden, The Tennis Club and Governor's Bay Community Centre will be our four venues.

The programme will be out before Christmas. Check our website and facebook for updates www.lyttelton.net.nz.

We're looking for community members to join the advisory group (the decision-making body for the project), so if you have some time and want to get more involved, please contact claire@lyttelton.net.nz or 328 9243.

Top Club -We started our rebuild!!!!!!!!!!!!

The scaffolding has gone up, we've agreed our exterior colour scheme and have ordered our new matching guttering to really make the club stand out up on the hill. We've shared an artists impression before, and hope you'll all see our vision coming together over the coming weeks.

As we've talked about before, in conjunction with the exterior changes, we'll be working on the sports hall and designing our temporary bar that will see us through the summer and autumn months.

London Street Dairy

London street dairy has had its various changes, over the last decade with its good owners, including the many earthquakes and has survived. The Patel family took ownership in 2016. Paresh arrived from England in 1988. He was born and educated in the West Midlands. Coming to New Zealand, Paresh as a young man attended two years study at Linwood High School, in Christchurch to further his education and then onto Canterbury university. In 1994 upon his first visit to India, he met his beloved Vanita on Christmas day. The extra blessing came with their marriage at Christmas time 1995. Over the years, Vanita has embraced the kiwi culture and lifestyle. Today, they have two children, a ten-year-old son and a sixteen-year-old daughter.

Since becoming owners of London Street dairy, Paresh and Vanita continue to maintain the legend of large ice-creams adored by consumers. The experienced shop keepers lost their last shop in Kilmore street near Piko's, in consequence of the earth-quakes. They enjoy the culture of Lyttelton community and say, it is by far the best they have found yet. " We love the people here and the close community feeling of togetherness."

Tradies for Charity

What a Great Idea.

Frances Willems is the manager of Project Lyttelton's community op-shop The Garage Sale. The shop is always in need of upgrades to make the visitors experience better. Having great lighting is something that has been on the teams wish list for quite some time. By chance manager Frances stumbled on a web site "Tradies for Charity". At the other end of the line was electrician Mick Bennett. Mick and his Fiancée Meredith from Cass Bay were thinking of opportunities to give something back to the community they were living in and so very recently set up "Tradies For Charity".

"The idea is to have quite a few professionals who can help charities in our area. To date Mick offers electrical work, Meredith HR services and another fellow helps with plumbing. Over time we would like to have all the trades and business skills available to local charities. It's a nice way that we can give a helping hand" he said.

Mick has been living in Cass Bay for two years and prior to that was in Timaru. New Zealand has been home for just over ten years. Like many people living in these parts he has lived in a few places. Originally from Australia, he was then in Scotland for a while and now New Zealand is very much home he tells me. "I really enjoy the friendly nature of the place and this is a way that we can give something back to this neat part of the world". As this venture is really new he will see how things pan out. Charity jobs will be balanced by the amount of regular work the team gets. Mick is also known as Ausmic Electrical. When that business does well he can invest more time in his charity efforts.

Project Lyttelton's Garage Sale lighting upgrade is the third project Mick has made his skills available for, so the whole thing is quite new for him. He's thought about all sorts of things to make the work more affordable for the charities they choose. He's done some deals with his suppliers so that all the product sourced for the jobs he elects to do get quite a discount on the prices. He then provides his labour for free. For Project Lyttelton this means that all the lights to brighten the interior of the Garage Sale have been supplied at cost price. A job that would have cost a couple of thousand is now done at a very affordable price enabling Project Lyttelton to invest more of the proceeds of the Garage Sale into the local community.

Think of Mick next time you visit the Garage Sale and you can now see all the wonderful array of items for sale! Think of Mick when you need your next electrical work done. Give him a call at Ausmic Electrical 021 156 3436 or email mick@ausmicelectgrical.co.nz Your support will enable him to support the wider Lyttelton community.

Hot, dry start to summer sparks fire restrictions

Fire restrictions are being put in place across the greater Christchurch region as a scorching start to summer raises the fire risk.

From Saturday 9 December you will need a fire permit if you want to light a fire in open air in Christchurch City, Selwyn, Hurunui and Waimakariri districts.

A hot start to the summer has led to fire restrictions being put in place across the Christchurch City Council district.

"Open air fires can spread to vegetation and then get out of control really quickly so it's vital you apply for a permit before you light up outdoors," says Fire and Emergency New Zealand (FENZ) Area Commander Dave Stackhouse.

"It's easy to apply for a fire permit. Go to www.checkitsalright.nz (external link) and follow the steps to apply for a fire permit. If you don't have access to the website, call us on 0800 658 628 or email us at Firepermit.christchurch@fireandemergency.nz so we can assist you.

"We can work with you to make sure your fire burns safely, or in some cases, we can advise you that it's not safe to burn a fire where you plan to," Mr Stackhouse says.

He is also advising people to avoid activities, such as welding, grinding and even mowing lawns, that may start a fire during the hottest part of the day. Stone strike from mowers has caused several fires in recent days. With more high temperatures forecast in the coming days and the prospect of a long, hot summer ahead, Christchurch City Council is urging property owners to play their part in helping reducing the fire risk in the city.

"Long dry grass can cause fires to spread quickly so it is important at this time of year that people keep any grass around their property trimmed," says Richard Neale, Compliance and Investigations Team Leader at the Council.

"As property owners we all have a responsibility to ensure our property is kept in a safe condition and that means taking practical steps to ensure any potential fire hazards are removed.

"That responsibility extends to empty sections you might own so we would really encourage you to check those too to make sure any fire risk is minimized," Mr Neale says.

Environment Canterbury is also reminding people that the Canterbury Regional Air Plan restricts outdoor burning for air quality purposes and must be complied with.

"Under the Air Plan outdoor burning is not allowed on properties under two hectares unless it is for cooking food. Some outdoor burning is allowed on properties over two hectares but strict conditions apply," says Environment Canterbury Principal Advisor Catherine White.

What an Amazing Day Lyttelton Primary School at the Beehive

The Year 8 students from our Primary School had their school camp in Wellington last week. One of the days activities was visiting Parliament. Set with their appointed guide the students were being shown around on a normal average tour when out of left field Prime Minister Jacinda Ardern saw the class passing her and invited them to sit in on her speech. Children, teachers and parent helpers piled into the room and took pride of place just below the podium.

What an amazing experience for everyone. What a great memory and introduction to politics for the year eights. What a terrific response from the Prime Minister to acknowledge our young people. A great photo shot followed and then local MP Ruth Dyson shouted everyone fish and chips!

Looking To Hire... Lyttelton Recreation Centre Activation Project

Project Lyttelton is looking to hire two or more passionate individuals to work on a new project to activate the Lyttelton Recreation Centre.

Community engagement is already underway to start the conversation about what our community can imagine the centre being used for – the scope is wide. Simultaneously, we are enjoying a lively conversation with the Christchurch City Council about what equal partnership looks like between the council and the community. We feel that this project is starting with strong foundations and exciting long-term possibilities.

We are seeking:

- An experienced business developer with an understanding of and passion for community. This person will create a strong but flexible business case for the centre and work towards its future financial self-sufficiency, working closely with other staff on the project.
- An experienced community worker who will create the life, warmth and heart at the centre, working alongside others to create a compelling vision and to support that vision to come to life.

There will also be several volunteer roles available on the project.

Please contact lucette@lyttelton.net.nz for a Position Description and/or more information, or all 03 328 9243.

Spur valerian (Centranthus ruber)

A threat to rock outcrop vegetation

Spur valerian (Centranthus ruber) is a garden plant which flowers from October – February and has white, pink or magenta coloured flowers. Originally from the Mediterranean it likes rocky and coastal habitats. It naturalised in NZ from the late 1870's. It has fine wind borne seeds, which disperse and establish easily. On the eastern Port Hills, spur valerian has spread from gardens and roadsides to become a threat to the natural rock outcrop vegetation.

Spur valerian lining roadsides

Spur valerian invading rock outcrop habitat

The Christchurch City Council's goal is to prevent the establishment of spur valerian in the inner Lyttelton Harbour, Diamond Harbour and Banks Peninsula to protect the unique values of the volcanic rock outcrops.

Natural rock outcrop habitat with prostrate kowhai

Spur valerian is currently sparsely distributed on Banks Peninsula. With a small degree of effort and community co-operation, spur valerian can be held from establishing on Banks Peninsula roadsides and adjacent rock outcrops.

Resident happy to remove spur valerian

Multi stems and woody root

Root base treated with gel

Cutting and stump treating spur valerian is easy. The plant looks large, but the many branching stems lead back to a large woody tap root that can be easily sawn off at the base and the remaining stump treated with a chemical gel to stop resprouting.

Spraying with a weak 2% solution of roundup (Glyphosate) is also effective. Seedlings will need to be controlled for a few years afterwards with both treatments.

If you would like to keep spur valerian as a garden plant, de-heading the flowers before they go to seed at the end of November is another way to reduce seed spread.

There is no legal obligation to control spur valerian. However, if you are willing to help prevent the establishment of spur valerian on Banks Peninsula, managing this plant if it appears in your garden would be much appreciated.

For further information contact Di Carter, Park Ranger, Christchurch City Council, 941 7572.

The Butler Dresses Again Jan 10-28th

The Butler began life in 2006 as a showcase for circus students. It morphed into a piece of professional circus theatre. We staged it to sell-out crowds in Lyttelton. We took it on tour around New Zealand. We took it on tour to London. At every stage it got reworked. In 2015 we rewrote it without most of the circus elements and put it on in Hull in the north of England. Here's what they had to say about it in Hull.

'What a genius production. So funny, intriguing and sexy and bonkers. I didn't want it to end.'

'Laughed till I cried. (Don't take the kids.)'

'Bold, hilarious, sharply observational, surreal and deliciously bawdy.'

'My face hurts from laughing'

And overheard in the ladies' toilets during the interval: 'I've never seen anything like it. Even my dreams aren't as weird as this.'

And this is the show we're now staging at LAF, the Lyttelton Arts Factory. If you saw the original Butler you'll recognise The Butler Dresses Again and at the same time you won't. It's still funny and sexy and wrong. It's still like nothing else.

The butler presides over a dinner party in nowhere. The guests blow in on the wind and have no idea who they are, why they're there or what the rules are. So they make it up as they go. The result is cruel, comic, pointless and entirely recognisable.

LYTEL GALLERY:

Reuben Romany Mason

Reuben is a self-taught model maker, painter and sculptor in that order.

Reuben prefers to paint with acrylics on canvass and sculpt using both Oamaru and Mt Summers limestone, having participated and tutored in sculpting symposia.

His models are usually of a historic nature with a keen interest in shipping and railways, however, his forte in his artform is in creating town and landscape scenery, hence photography.

Photography is a by product of his creativity with many images captured for research material for modelling and painting. Although not a prolific producer-exhibitor, Reuben has over the years, sold both locally and overseas.

The photographs currently on exhibit at the Lyttel Gallery are some images from the "research" portfolio captured on his travels. Having first exhibited in the seventies this will be Reuben's eighteenth showing.
