The Review

Is a Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre initiative designed to keep our community informed with what is going on around the harbour. It's also an opportunity to showcase the people and places that other wise would go under the radar. Our community connections ensure we know what's going on in the wider community and can share the news with you all. A big thank you goes out to all the contributors and our funders Rata Foundation and Christchurch City Council Strengthening Communities who enable the hard copies to be printed each edition. Similarly to Wendy Everingham for writing and editing and Jenny-Lee Love for design and production. If you have any local events, news or stories you would like included we'd love to hear from you.

Paper Flower Fun

Kia ora from Busy C's! This week our friends were so extraordinarily lucky to have a florist friend donate some amazing big paper flowers from their window display to our preschool! Our tamariki were absolutely enthralled by these enormous blooms and when discussing how we could use them, the overwhelming response was first they needed decorating! The Kaiako were quick to think of some fun, collaborative and inventive ways we could do this, and the project began with enthusiasm!

Using heuristic items such as an eggbeater, fly swat, potato masher, pipettes in our repertoire of tools added dimension and invention to our painting experience as our friends focussed deeply on their artistic process. We revisited our flowers almost every day this week, adding new elements and layers of paint or found items. Being able to revisit projects is a great way to extend the interests of our tamariki and provide opportunities for prolonged collaborative engagement. We are so happy and proud that the tamariki and whanau of Busy C's are a part of such a generous wider community that notices how much we enjoy re-purposing and reusing materials.

What's Happening to our Bees?

Please Don't Spray.

"For the last couple of years, I can pretty much schedule the last week in January to mid-February my bees die on mass. Year one I was devastated, year two frustrated and year three it was expected!"

Hannah Ewing a Lyttelton resident is a bee hobbyist. She absolutely loves bees and their role in our lives and the general environment, and she wants you to know just how wonderful and important they are. "I am so fascinated by their role in pollination so much that I did my thesis on bees", she said. Hannah is a teacher, and her two-household hives aid her teaching and experimentation with honey products.

Paul Maguire has hives in Lyttelton as well. He also loves bees and like Hannah is gutted when his bees die suddenly at this time of the year. "What is causing this?" Paul unlike Hannah is a part-time semi-commercial beekeeper. Paul and Hannah have been reaching out to all the hive owners in our area to find out what is happening to their bees and it seems it is a similar story right around Lyttelton. Currently there are around eight people who are keeping in regular contact about this issue but there are approximately nineteen beekeepers in the area.

"No one really knows the exact cause of the deaths", says Paul but both he and Hannah think harmful sprays of some kind are the cause of the problem. Paul is strong about what he thinks about spraying, "Just don't spray". Paul has first-hand experience about spraying having worked in the horticultural industry for some years. "I used to work with hot house tomatoes. The amount of pesticide sprayed, and its effects put me off working in that industry", he said.

Paul explained that the area bees travel for food is exceptionally large. "Bees can't tell what has/hasn't been sprayed so until we all stop spraying other so-called pests these amazing creatures and others will be affected", he said. He also wanted to let the wider public know that the cost of beehives range from $500-$600 per hive. That is quite a loss for a beekeeper or hobbyist if their hive collapses.

Hannah is also not a fan of spraying but her advice if you do is:

- Avoid using pesticides when possible or select an organic product.

- Never apply pesticides when plants are flowering, organic or not. (Think peak growing seasons)
- Apply according to the directions on the bottle- most are best applied in the evening when there are less pollinators out.
- Never use products that contain:
 - IMIDACLOPRID
 - CLOTHIANIDIN
 - THIAMETHOXAM
 - ACETAMIPRID
 - DINOTEFURAN.

"These are extremely toxic to bees and common in many home garden products.

They are often marketed as "all-in-one-care". Neonicotinoid pesticides are believed by many to be the root cause of the pollinator die offs we are experiences worldwide," she said.

"If/when you do spray you also need to think about the wider implications of the spray," Paul said. Spray drift can also kill other plants and insects around the site.

Our beekeepers want to get to the bottom of the problem in our area. By working together, they hope to find out what is causing the problem. Watch out for a possible fundraiser to help our local bees. Mean time think of all the wonderful things bees do for us – pollinate our fruit and vegetables, provide honey that is used in multiple products from food, skin and furniture care.

Hannah has a final message for you all. "Every one of three bites of food we eat comes from the pollination service of a bee. We depend on them, but they also depend on us to help them..."

CCC Long Term Plan and Climate Change Strategy Have Your Say

Public consultation is open on two key documents that will help determine Christchurch and Banks Peninsula's path forward in the coming years.

"Today we are inviting the public to have their say on both the Draft 2021-31 Long Term Plan and the Draft Ōtautahi Christchurch Climate Change Strategy," says Mayor Lianne Dalziel.

"These two documents are critically important as they will help shape how our city grows and develops in the next decade and how we respond to the challenges and opportunities of a changing climate.

"These are issues that will impact on the lives of each and every resident in Christchurch and Banks Peninsula so I really encourage people to get involved in the decision-making process by giving feedback on what we're proposing," Mayor Dalziel says.

"There are some big decisions to be made so it is important that we get different perspectives on the issues. It is easy for people to give feedback – they can do it online or in writing.

We'll also be running drop-in sessions over the next few weeks where people can along and ask Council staff and elected members questions that might help in the submission process."

Feedback on the Draft 2021-31 Long Term Plan can be given until Sunday 18 April, while feedback on the Draft Ōtautahi Christchurch Climate Change Strategy can be given until 24 April.

CCC Long Term Plan

The Council has issued a series of articles that detail some key activities that our rates are proposed to be spent on. Here are more detailed items that affect residents of Banks Peninsula. Let the Council know if you like or dislike the ideas.

Climate Change Focus

An important focus of our 10-year draft budget is on reducing greenhouse gas emissions – through making changes to the way we travel, the waste we create and the energy we use.

We will also invest in developing our understanding of the impacts of climate change so we can better prepare and respond to these together with our communities, and to meet Government's requirements.

During the period covered by the Long-Term Plan 2021–2031, our action to meet this challenge will include:

- Working with Ngāi Tahu and Papatipu Rūnanga, businesses, organisations and the community to develop and implement actions in our draft Ōtautahi Christchurch Climate Change Strategy.
- Adaptation planning with communities that will be impacted by sea level rise through coastal erosion, coastal inundation and rising groundwater. We'll engage with all communities across Christchurch and Banks Peninsula to understand and develop responses to sea level rise impacts.
- Supporting Christchurch residents to take their own climate change action, with advice and tools on sustainability.
- Supporting climate-focused community projects through the annual $380,000 Sustainability Fund.

- Supporting the improvement of biodiversity outcomes across the city through the annual $190,000 Biodiversity Fund.
- Spending $13.1 million on planting across the city. A big focus of the next 10 years will be providing the millions of plants required for the ecological restoration of the Ōtakaro Avon River Corridor.
- Improving our ability to cope with more extreme rain and flooding. We'll put $421 million into measures that will reduce the risk from flooding and improve our waterways.
- Improving the sustainability and resilience of our transport network – we're prioritising the environment, safety, access, and affordability.

In this Draft Long-Term Plan, $347.9 million is allocated to projects that support better environmental outcomes, including:

- $235.8 million on all cycling projects and programmes, which includes $87.3 million in 'shovel ready' funding from the Government to deliver a number of major cycleways and complete the Coastal Pathway.
- $4.3 million charging facilities within Council parking buildings.
- $90.7 million to improve our public transport facilities across the city.
- The balance of projects are planned to improve our central city networks.
- Further improvements to the Council vehicle fleet, working towards electrification and nil emissions by 2030.
- Managing Council facilities to reduce the energy they use.
- Investigating options to monitor and reduce emissions associated with our wastewater services.
- Producing bio-gas, and generating energy from bio-gas, at our Bromley wastewater treatment plant.
- Reducing the carbon footprint of our water supply network by changing the design of our infrastructure, building it in a different way with different materials, and looking at the energy efficiency and fuel use.
- Investing in using highly treated wastewater from Akaroa to irrigate new areas of native trees at Robinson Bay, Takamātua and Hammond Point.

- Exploring infrastructure solutions that reduce the amount of embodied carbon, such as water tanks made of steel with a high proportion of recycled metal.

This is our first Long Term Plan to include a climate change lens over everything, and it won't be the last. More work needs to be done, and future Long-Term Plans will reflect this.

Long Term Plan Parks and Foreshore Focus

We are proposing to spend $515 million on our parks and $60 million on our foreshore over the next 10 years.

A total of 39 per cent of planned spending is on new developments and upgrades while most of the funding (61 per cent) is on renewing what we already have as it reaches the end of its life.

Significant areas of expenditure include:

- Parks-related Residential Red Zone regeneration projects, including the Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor ($170 million)
- Cemeteries, including a new cemetery at Templeton. Some money is also allocated to the Lyttelton Catholic Cemetery and Diamond Harbour Cemetery ($31 million)
- Botanic Gardens Masterplan projects and renewals ($27 million)
- Naval Point redevelopment ($27 million)
- Akaroa Wharf ($19 million)
- Diamond Harbour Wharf renewal
- Head-to-Head Walkway Governors Bay to Alandale sea wall renewal.
- Hagley Park development and renewals ($8 million)
- Strategic land purchase ($4.5 million)
- Rod Donald Trust strategic land purchase ($3 million)

In the first three years, our focus is to look after what we have and prioritise renewals based on the condition and age of the assets.

Akaroa Wharf will be one of our most significant renewal projects.

Regeneration of the Ōtākaro Avon River Corridor will gather momentum.

We will also start to develop aspects of the Christchurch Botanic Gardens Master Plan, continue with the development of Ngā Puna Wai Sports Hub, progressively upgrade our sports fields, and reopen Lancaster Park for public use – the first stage of its redevelopment.

We'll also deliver numerous smaller, community-based projects.

Long Term Plan Investing in Resource Recovery

We're proposing in our Draft Long-Term Plan to invest in our recycling and organics facilities to enable more waste to be diverted from landfill.

Christchurch has had a successful three-bin kerbside system since 2009, diverting approximately 65 per cent of household recyclable and organic materials from landfill.

Waste minimisation is fundamental to helping achieve our climate change goals. In 2018, 9 per cent of our carbon footprint for the Christchurch community was caused by waste disposal.

In Christchurch, more than 200,000 tonnes of waste is sent to landfill each year, the equivalent of 538 kilograms per person (excluding special waste). Another 115,000 tonnes is processed through our recycling and organics facilities (diverted from landfill).

There are growing community aspirations for sustainable ways to manage our resources, such as recycling and composting to reduce these materials going to landfills.

The Council shares those aspirations. In 2020 we adopted a new Waste Management and Minimisation Plan that focuses on changing our 'throw-away' culture and reducing the amount of waste we are sending to landfill.

Implementing the actions in that plan are the key drivers of our capital and operational spending in the area of resource recovery.

Our kerbside red bin service delivers about 45,000 tonnes of rubbish per year to landfill. In addition, our public EcoDrops and transfer stations around Christchurch and Banks Peninsula receive almost 70,000 tonnes of rubbish each year.

Upgrading our transfer stations will ensure we provide safe and accessible facilities for disposal of rubbish, while investing in resource recovery centres at each site and education programmes will help divert more waste from landfill.

We propose spending $18.5 million on transfer station infrastructure over the next 10 years, including:

- Upgraded facilities building at Barrys Bay Transfer Station ($0.3 million)
- Transfer station stormwater treatment ($0.25 million)
- Transfer station upgrades ($9 million)
- Equipment (including renewals) ($9 million)

Our kerbside recycling yellow bin service produces about 34,000 tonnes per year. We're facing significant challenges to divert recyclable items from landfill. We need to reduce our yellow kerbside bins from being contaminated with rubbish and increase our sorting capabilities to meet new quality standards required by international recycling markets.

We also need to work with the Government and industry to promote processing materials in New Zealand where possible. Failing to reduce contamination to acceptable levels could mean we don't have an export or local market for our recycling.

We propose spending $18.4 million on recycling infrastructure over the next 10 years, including:

- $1.6 million on capital renewals.
- $16.8 million on Materials Recovery Facility upgrades – funded by the Government, with assets vested to the Council once the contract is completed.

We are upgrading our organics processing plant in Bromley to ensure odour and dust standards are met, and to future-proof the plant's capacity.

We propose spending $25 million on organics infrastructure over the next 10 years, including:

- Organics processing plant upgrades commencing in 2021 ($21.5 million).
- Building and fixed plant renewals ($3.5 million).

The first three years will focus on the upgrades at the organics processing plant and Materials Recovery Facility sites. Major contracts for these facilities expire in January 2024. Ongoing management of these sites will determine further investment.

Long Term Plan Freshwater

We have a responsibility to ensure our drinking water supply, infrastructure and water taonga are managed in a way that supports the environmental, social, cultural and economic wellbeing of current and future generations.

We're investing in upgrading the city's drinking water supply network, including upgrading well heads, drilling new and deeper wells, upgrading reservoirs, replacing older pipes, and installing new 'smart' monitoring systems and flow meters.

Safe drinking water, without residual chlorine, is a major priority for the Council, and for the people of Christchurch. We've resolved that, long term, we want to retain the city's untreated water supply system and will seek an exemption from the Government proposal in the Water Services Bill to require residual chlorine treatment.

Much of our water supply pipe network was built during previous building booms. It is ageing and around 14 per cent of pipes are in very poor condition and are expected to fail in the next one to two years. A concerted effort is therefore needed to replace large parts our water supply pipe network to stop it deteriorating further.

In the next 30 years we need to keep protecting our drinking water supply by upgrading and renewing infrastructure and extending the network to supply water to new developments. We propose spending $836 million over the next 10 years, including the following in the Lyttelton area:

- Lyttelton Stormwater Renewals
- Corsair Bay Pipeline Renewal
- Godley Quay Reticulation Renewals
- Port Hills and Lyttelton Harbour Erosion and Sedimentation
- Stevensons Steep Network Renewals
- Lyttelton Harbour Water Supply Security
- Lyttelton Rail Tunnel Pipe Renewals
- Mount Herbert Reservoir Renewal

Action Costs - How Fast do you Want Change?

Environment Canterbury's work programme and budget proposals for the next ten years (the Long-Term Plan) is out for consultation (visit your local library for paper copies or check out <https://haveyoursay.ecan.govt.nz>). Like the City Council, Environment Canterbury's rates are proposed to increase. Speaking with Councillor Vicky Southworth, the Review Team are trying to give you a greater understanding of what our Regional Council (Environment Canterbury) is doing and what they want to achieve.

"I believe that at the last election many of you voted because you realise, as a community, we have to do more to protect our environment and slow climate change", said Councillor Southworth. "Transformational changes come at a cost", she explained. "This time around the Councillors are proposing many other (non statutory) projects in a bid to tackle climate change and improve our environment faster", said Vicky.

There are two options the public are being asked to comment on. Both options involve increasing rates. Option 1 involves a 24.5% increase in rates. "On a home valued at $580,000 that equates to an extra $80 a year or roughly $1.50 per week", she said. But what is the council proposing to spend the rates on?

One key area of investment for Christchurch is public transport since 54% of the city's greenhouse gas emissions are from transport. Environment Canterbury's Option 1 allows for a trial of a reduced flat fare meaning the same cost regardless of which zone you travel across; child fares for under 19s so no one at school will pay an adult fare; more high frequency bus routes; more electric buses; some additional express services and improved real time information. These service improvements will tie in with City Council's proposed investment in bus lanes and other infrastructure. Could these changes result in more people leaving their cars behind?

Vicky also likes the idea of increasing routes. "I'd love to see a new bus service from Sumner to Governors Bay. Not only would these communities be linked it would also be an added bonus for visitors. Walkers could get to Evans Pass to visit Godley Head. The Lyttelton Farmers Market would be linked to Sumner, Governors Bay would be linked to Lyttelton. Corsair Bay and Cass Bay residents could once again have a decent service", she said.

An on-demand bus service is currently being trialled in Timaru, called MyWay, which could provide a great opportunity for other parts of Canterbury, including this area.

Other proposals included in Option 1 are:

- Improving compliance with consents by employing more compliance staff.
- Active regeneration of the natural environment (Braided River Revival, wetland protection, and increasing native planting with a programme called Me Uru Rākau).
- More data collection and information sharing for better outcomes.
- A contestable fund to support local groups environmental projects.
- Expansion of the Enviroschools Programme to reach over 50 schools currently on a waiting list, as well as continuing to support schools on the programme now.

Vicky explained that if rate payers support Option 2 the changes to our environment will be much slower. "Option 2 results in a $54 rise in rates, or around $1 per week, on a home valued at $580,000", she said. "This option removes many of the public transport improvements, shrinks the opportunities to enhance our braided rivers and re-establish native forest, and leaves many school children unable to access a high quality environmental education programme".

Both options require a significant increase in budget to cover planning work to comply with the government's "Essential Freshwater Package", together with a review of the Regional Policy Statement and long overdue Regional Environmental Coastal Plan. Both will see the region benefit from the government's Covid 19 recovery funding. Six recovery projects amounting to $24M of work have been selected, bringing in $15M of grants but still needing $9M of rates. This work will reduce flood risk focusing on weed removal, stabilising stopbanks and regionwide berm planting whilst also creating jobs. Further government grants from Jobs for Nature will support wallaby control, and clearing wilding pines in the much loved McKenzie basin.

Why should rate payers support Option 1?

"I think you voted a more progressive council to your table. I believe we can make a difference. Let us do more. We need to do more than incremental change." she said.

Environment Canterbury is really keen to hear what you think about these proposed changes. What do you like or dislike? Have they prioritised the rights issues? Do you want councillors to pursue Option 1 or 2? Do you believe the rates are affordable?

One option that can be considered to spread the costs over the years is borrowing. Should we borrow now for projects that provide a long term benefit, such as the Covid 19 recovery projects, or plans that deliver environmental improvements over time?

What to plant in your garden to encourage bees:

Annual flowers: calendula, marigold, sunflowers, poppies, cosmos, echium, clover, nasturtiums.

Perennials: comfrey, dahlias, echinacea, geraniums, aquilegia, gladiolus.

Shrubs: Californian lilac, buddleia, echium.

Fruit and vegetables: cucumbers, pumpkin, courgette.

Herbs: bee balm, borage, coriander, rosemary, thyme.

Natives: flax, hebe, cordylines, hoheria, olearia, tea tree.

Recreation Cen Centre

Volunteers wanted!

Would you like to be a volunteer at the Lyttelton Rec Centre once or twice a week? We currently have gaps on our roster for front desk/ reception role Monday mornings 10am to 1pm and Thursday afternoons 1pm to 4pm.

Both of these shifts are not very busy so there is plenty of time to read a book, catch up on emails or other stuff and off course connect with the various people in our community who visit the facility.

If you are interested in joining our team please contact Juliet Adams on 021 899 404 or lift@lyttelton.net.nz

Chess

When did you last have a game of chess? Have you been inspired by watching The Queens Gambit on Netflix? It is great for young and old minds. We have started a Community Chess Club with the help of some local chess enthusiasts. Spread the word, we would love the community to take advantage of this, bring the whole family for an evening of chess. Gold coin optional for entry. This is a Lyttelton Recreation Centre Trust initiative.

Lyttelton Farmers Market

For the next two weekends we will be celebrating - National Farmers Market Week 20-28th March and giving appreciation and acknowledgment to the growers and producers who make our market very special. Next weekend we will have a $100 worth of Farmers Market goodies to give away!!

Trees at root of Christchurch's Garden City image

A new policy is in place for how Christchurch City Council will manage the planting, maintenance and removal of trees on public land.

The new policy, formally recently adopted, sets out how the Council will ensure a tree renewal programme is maintained for future generations and how it plans to manage the maintenance of trees in parks, reserves, roads and other public places that it looks after.

The Tree Policy also outlines under what circumstances trees will be removed and provides guidance on how public requests for the removal of the trees should be dealt with.

"Christchurch is the Garden City and trees are a very important to that identity," says Councillor Yani Johanson, who chaired the Hearings Panel that considered the public's submissions on the Draft Tree Policy.

"Trees also play a vital role in carbon sequestration and helping to combat climate change so it is very important that we have a robust policy in place for managing and protecting the trees we have on public land.

"It was clear from the submissions that we received during the consultation process that people place a high value on trees and want Council to do more to enhance and protect them for the environmental and ecological benefits they provide."

"We need to make sure we look after the trees that we have and continue to plant new trees because it will help us to achieve our climate change goals which is why we have asked for consideration of additional actions including:

How our District plan can be amended to provide greater protection for trees on private property to mitigate the losses due to increased intensification.

Better systems of monitoring our tree canopy coverage and of valuing the environmental benefits.

Annual reporting to Community Boards on tree removals and tree replacements.

"Ultimately, we want to increase the tree canopy in Christchurch, which is why staff are currently developing an Urban Forest Plan that will map out the long-term vision for the city and Banks Peninsula.

"The plan will focus on expanding the cover and resilience of our urban forest to maximise the many benefits it provides to the city and its residents," Cr Johanson says.

Council staff expect to present a draft Urban Forest Plan to elected member for approval to go out for public consultation by the end of the year.

Canvas & Clay -

Ruth Willis and John Barry

Almost a century of creative experience converges on canvas and in clay in this joint exhibition by mature Diamond Harbour artists, Ruth Willis and John Barry. Ruth is a well-known potter in the community with a four-decade practice, while John has half a century behind him as a respected painter. The exhibition also incorporates a number of events at the Stoddart Cottage Gallery over the month. Ruth will be leading hands-on pottery demonstrations. John will be presenting a special Anzac Day talk around four of his paintings depicting heroic Kiwi airmen, before these move to permanent display at the Air Force Museum of NZ.

Ruth Willis found her passion for pottery in the 1980s, as a foundation member of a Methven pottery club. Describing herself has a "rustic" potter, she initially made domestic ware on the wheel, shared with family and friends. By 1988 Ruth had bought her own kiln, and through attending many workshops over the years, now produces a variety of shapes and forms. "The pleasure I have of working with the clay is the satisfaction of creating a unique piece of work in an age of mass production," says Ruth. In this exhibition she will be showing both favourite pieces from her personal collection, as well as recent works for sale.

John Barry is a largely self-taught painter working across multiple media: watercolours, oils, acrylics, pastels, and charcoal. His preference is for pastel painting, which has seen him become an award-winning member of Pastel Artists of NZ. John engages with a variety of subjects; from figure studies and portraits, local and NZ landscapes, to aviation themes, the latter resulting from spending over 30 years in the RNZAF. His paintings have been used to illustrate books and magazine articles, and some donated to the Air Force Museum of NZ.

Events

Ruth Willis: Weekends on the Wheel – Pottery Demonstration
Every Saturday following the opening weekend: 10th, 17th, 24th April & 1st May - between 2-4pm.

Ruth will be demonstrating how to make pots on the potter's wheel at a series of drop-in Saturday sessions. This is an opportunity to both see the artisan at work, and try your hand at making something under Ruth's guidance. Free. No booking required.

John Barry: Four Brave Men – Anzac Day Talk
25th April (ANZAC Day) 2pm sharp.

John will be presenting Four Brave Men, four of his paintings devoted to kiwi airmen awarded the Victoria Cross. Following this exhibition, these works will become part of the Air Force Museum of NZ's collection. Free. No booking required.

Opening Event: Saturday 3rd April, 2-4pm

Exhibition dates: 2 April – 2 May 2021

Stoddart Cottage Gallery, 2 Waipapa Avenue,
Diamond Harbour
Hours: Friday-Sunday plus public holidays,
10am-4pm. Opens 1pm on Anzac Day.

Coal Air Discharge Resource Consent Drop-in session

Tuesday 13 April, 6pm – 7.30pm

Lyttelton Recreation Centre

(access from 25 Winchester Street)

LPC is holding a public drop-in session next month to talk to residents about LPC's Coal Dust Resource Consent Renewal.

The session is a chance for you to find out more about the consent renewal process and ask any questions you may have. We will also be presenting the preliminary live monitoring data we have collected over summer.

What is the Coal Dust Resource Consent Renewal?

We are in the process of renewing our coal air discharge resource consent, which enables us to store and handle coal for export. As part of this process LPC is undertaking an air monitoring programme through the dry summer months to evaluate the potential effects of any dust that is emitted.

More information

To find out more about the consent renewal process, the type of coal we export, and our monitoring data, check out our dedicated web page: www.lpc.co.nz/community/coal-dust-resource-consent-renewal

Won't make the drop-in session?
