Lyttelton Club Restaurant

Where Everybody Knows Your Name

Making your way in the world today takes everything you've got, and sometimes taking a break from all your worries sure would help a lot. Wouldn't be great to live in the “Cheers” moment, and go where everybody knows your name. Here in Lyttelton that song breaking television screen experience is alive and welcoming at the Lyttelton Club, or as more fondly referred to by the locals - the Top Club. Following the February earthquake the Lyttelton Club was the only place in town to enjoy a beer; and more importantly a space to be around fellow shaken Lyttelton residents.

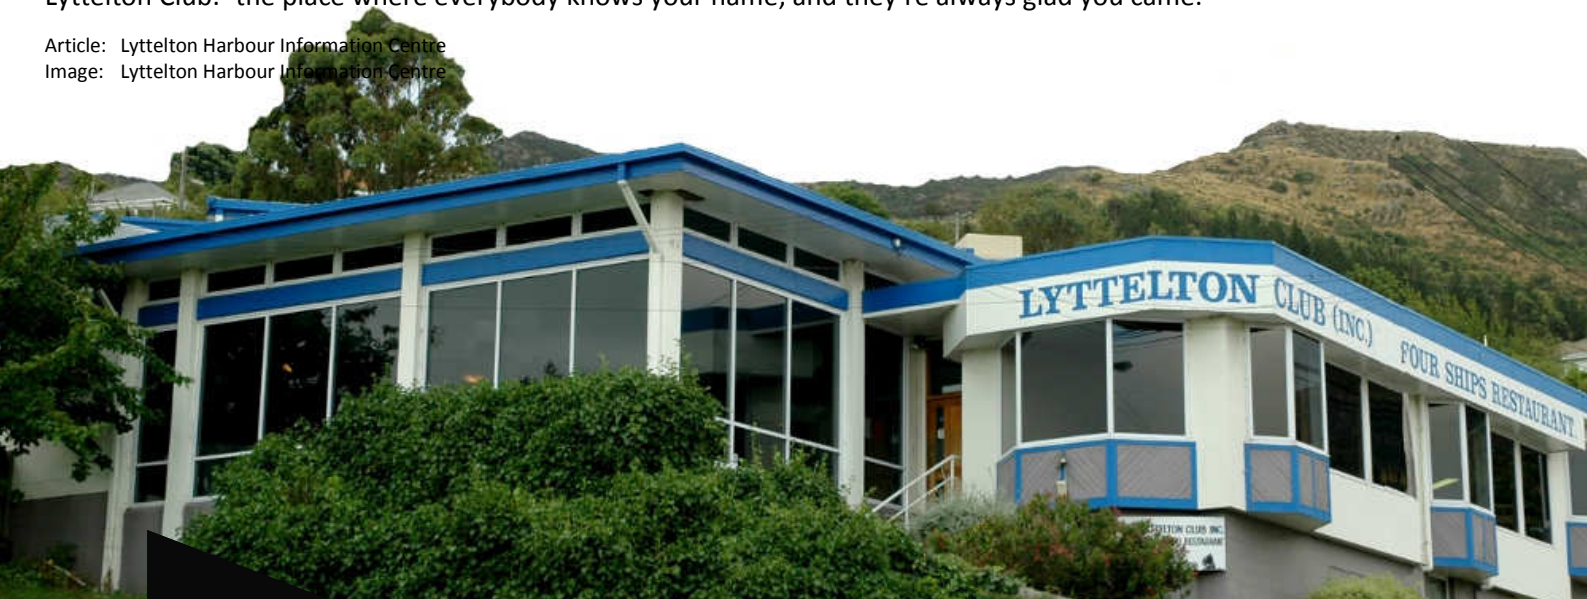

Over the past several months the Lyttelton Club has been a haven for many residents, and over time the Club has been slowly and surely transforming itself. Toward the end of last year the Four Ships Restaurant re-opened, together with a new focus: simple, well-prepared, good quality, value for money family meals. And it is fast proving to be a recipe for success.

Meals range from the roast of the day; to blue fin fish and chips; to pasta and vegetarian dishes. There is a bar meal menu for those with smaller appetites and the full menu for the hungry. If you prefer to head down to the Lyttelton Club for an after work drink, you can take your meal home with you. Or bring the family and friends down to enjoy the dining in experience at the Four Ships Restaurant that offers the best restaurant view in town.

The editorial team at the Lyttelton Review have successfully sampled their way through most of the menu, and can highly recommend: Pork roast with crackling; blue fin fish and chips [also a bargain at just $8.00]; and the spare ribs with salad and hot chips.

Restaurant is open Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 5.00pm until 9.00pm. Roast meal of the day $15.00 – and it is huge portion. And parents, if you dine at the restaurant on Thursday and Sunday, your child under 10years can dine for free. Conditions apply. While the Lyttelton Club has a membership option, everyone is welcome. Take another look at the Lyttelton Club:- the place where everybody knows your name, and they're always glad you came.

Lyttelton Lions Club

Taking a glimpse at the Lions

Lyttelton Lions Club has been a part of the fabric of this community for 46 years. Mary Jamieson is an active member of the club. Mary has been involved in Lions for 22 years. “I first became a part of the organization when I lived in Sydney. At that time my husband was a member and I used to help him with his activities.”

Interestingly although only 20 years ago Mary was unable to join her husbands club as it was for men only! Luckily as attitudes changed Mary was able to join the club and when she moved to Lyttelton several years ago was able to transfer her membership to the branch here.

What is this organization about? Looking at their web site <http://www.lionsclubs.org.nz/> we read: “Lions are ordinary men, women and young people from all walks of life who bridge religious, political, economic and social boundaries. They are united in their desire to make a difference by contributing their personal time and talents to help other people. Their motto is “We Serve”. In New Zealand 11,200 members belong to 410 clubs in seven Districts. They are part of a worldwide network of 1.3 million Lions in over 200 countries or regions”

To date our local Lions Club has been helping our community recover from the earthquakes. Lions, like many groups were donated significant sums of money from around the world to help with the recovery effort. “Our club received $22,000 from two clubs in New Zealand and two clubs in Australia” said Mary.

She detailed what the funds had been donated to. They were able to give petrol vouchers to the wonderful volunteers at Community House who delivered meals, food vouchers to families that needed a bit of extra support, respite for people who needed a break, camp opportunities to local school children, seniors afternoon teas to bring some cheer into elderly lives, extra art therapy classes and so the list goes on.

“The most significant project has been resourcing the local schools with emergency kits”, she said. All schools around Lyttelton Harbour were able to purchase emergency supplies specific to their needs. Whilst most purchased the standard items, thermal blankets, torches, tarpaulins etc some had a few interesting ideas. Kidz First Kindergarten added rope to their emergency supplies. The idea was that all the children could hold onto that so they didn’t get lost when chaos was prevailing.

Lyttelton Lions still have some earthquake donations to be spent. If you have a recovery project that needs funding please get in touch and like all service clubs they are always looking for new members. If you would like to get involved Mary Jamieson would love to hear from you. Mary can be contacted on 328 8523 or mjam@xtra.co.nz

Generous Donations Help The Loons

$500,000 Christchurch Relief Funds Distributed to Arts

Since the devastating February 22nd earthquake, people from across New Zealand and around the world have donated over $7million dollars to a Christchurch relief fund, set up to support earthquake repair works.

The Christchurch City Council have been given the task of deciding where these generous donations will be distributed, and at the Council meeting on 2nd February, the Council approved more than $500,000 for arts projects, including assisting the temporary Court Theatre in Addington; and rebuilding The Loons Theatre in Lyttelton.

Mayor Bob Parker has been quoted as saying "The Council has already approved over $3million in grants from the Fund, and today I'm pleased that a range of arts organisations will receive a further $500,000 from it."

The grants approved include:

- $100,000 to the Court Theatre towards the costs of their temporary theatre.
- $250,000 to The Loons toward the costs of rebuilding the theatre.
- $80,000 to CPIT Creative Industries Faculty towards the costs of the 'Artbox' project.
- $80,000 to CHART towards the costs of a central rehearsal space for musicians.
- $70,000 to Music Centre of Christchurch towards costs incurred in planning.
- $3,500 to the Gordon Scout Group towards the insurance shortfall to repair the Scout Hall.

Governors Bay Volunteer Fire Brigade, was awarded a Council grant of $6,000 to cover their expenses for furnishing the Governors Bay fire station, as a venue for local meetings. With the closure of the damaged community facilities at Governors Bay and Allandale, it's great to see the volunteer brigade has made space for its community to continue to be able to meet until things can be put right.

Councillor Claudia Reid has commented "It was a thrill to secure the Council's support for the Working Men's Cub and Loons Theatre Company yesterday and I know it's been received as a real boost for Lyttelton."

Plenty to Share

Opportunity to Share Excess Produce

Plenty to Share organises say the debut event held on Saturday 28th January was a huge success with locals and visitors alike bringing down surplus foods to share and exchange.

The ethos of Plenty to Share really is in the title – having Plenty to Share with the rest of the community. In Lyttelton where so many residents grow vegetables; or have fruit trees literally dripping with produce, Plenty to Share is about sharing the excess with the community.

So if your lemon tree is yellow with goodness and you can't keep up with making lemon curd or drinking enough gin and tonics, bring those surplus fruits down to the organisers on Wednesday between 3pm and 6pm. If there is something on the Plenty to Share table that you would like to take home, then you are freely invited to do so.

What: Plenty to Share
Bring, share and exchange your surplus with others

When: Every Wednesday 3.00pm to 6.00pm

Where: Lyttelton Petanque Club
Corner London Street and Canterbury Street

Plenty to Share are also looking for more volunteers to help with this community initiative. If you would like to be involved in this grow local project, please contact Brian Rick 021 201 1279.

Lonely Planet Updates Tourists

Christchurch and Canterbury Region Updated

Lonely Planet have updated its New Zealand's chapter on Christchurch and Canterbury for the 16th edition of Lonely Planet's New Zealand booklet, due to be published September 2012. The update has been provided free, without finalised editing or full mapping, in order to provide travellers the most up to date post earthquake travel information, as quickly as possible.

When covering Lyttelton, Lonely Planet have published these positive comments:

Lyttelton was badly damaged during the 2010 and 2011 earthquakes, and many of the town's heritage buildings along London Street were subsequently demolished. Following the earthquakes, Lyttelton has re-emerged as one of Christchurch's most interesting and resilient communities. The town's artsy, independent and bohemian vibe is stronger than ever, and it's becoming a hub for good bars, cafes and restaurants. It is well worth catching the bus from Christchurch and getting immersed in the local scene. Recommended places to visit include:

Freeman's Dining Room

Freeman's does fresh pasta, top notch pizzas and regular wine and beer specials featuring brews from Christchurch's Cassels & Sons Brewery. Grab a spot on the deck for great town and harbour views, and take in Sunday afternoon jazz concerts from 3pm. Definitely the kind of neighbourhood local you would like in your town.

Porthole

On the former site of the much loved Volcano Cafe and Lava Bar, Porthole is another funky reinvention of the humble shipping container. Local wines and Kiwi craft beers are served in the buzzy interior, while laidback Lyttelton folk chill on the alfresco deck. The Volcano Cafe is still involved too, serving up tasty bar snacks.

Fisherman's Wharf

Part alfresco bar and part gourmet fish and chippie, Fishman's Wharf is a top spot for a cold beer and tasty seafood bar snacks and mains. Try the fish of the day - prepared any of three ways - or smaller plates like salmon with lemongrass, chilli and lime; and look forward to views of the harbour and the rugged working port.

Lyttelton Farmers Market

Lyttelton's foodie credentials are enhanced by the farmers market held in the local primary school on Saturdays.

Governor's Bay Hotel

The Governor's Bay Hotel serves tasty burgers, steaks and fish and chips, and more international meals like slow cooked lamb shanks with Moroccan couscous. Enjoy a beer on the cool verandah that's dotted with memoirs of the hotel's 145 years of history. Upstairs is accommodation in chic and recently refurbished rooms with shared bathrooms.

She Chocolat

She Chocolat serves excellent brunches and lunches with an organic and new age tinge. After ricotta and raisin crepes, make room for locally made Belgian chocolates and take in the harbour views. The cafe is also open for dinner on Friday and Saturday nights; the menu includes a unique chocolate imbued degustation menu with Pegasus Bay wine matches.

Lonely Planet also highlighted that both the Lyttelton Coffee Company and Monster Yakitori were working hard to reopen around April 2012; with the Wunderbar also working toward a new opening date.

Pirates, Unsung Heroes and Other Lunatics

Skills Wanted for Pirates of Corsair Bay

The Pirates of Corsair Bay event will happen on March 10th [rain day 11th March]. Organisers are anticipating lots of tomfoolery on the beach, and hope everyone can come along dressed appropriately.

Last week organisers hosted a successful planning meeting, and a lot of enthusiasm was generated. However, more volunteers [deckhands] are need to make this event the great success it is bound to be. If you are available Saturday 10th March and are willing to have some fun, then now is your chance to be involved. Jobs include – crowd roving as friendly pirate; helping with control; collecting donations; traffic control; first aid; and helping to cordon off areas needed by performers or parking.

Event organiser Juliet Neil says “how can we put the word out to all the wonderful people who may have seen our requests, but might have put it on the back burner, or those who have not yet seen our requests? No prior experience is necessarily necessary - just lots of enthusiasm to deliver a memorable event. Whatever you step up for, you will have a great time”

If you can help Juliet and her band of helpers deliver a hilarious community event; then “hoist the sails” and get on the phone to Juliet as soon as you can on 328 8558.

Jackie Bristow - Live in Lyttelton

One Only Christchurch Performance Here in Lyttelton

Singer and songwriter Jackie Bristow is a southern girl at heart. Born and raised in GORE, New Zealand this Kiwi has found her wings. Beautiful songbird that she is, Jackie has flown halfway around the world with nothing more than her guitar and a dream.

Now living in Austin, Texas, listeners can hardly discern her lilting Kiwi accent when she sings her own brand of alt-country roots rock. After releasing her 3rd album, Freedom, in New Zealand and Australia and touring in support of Shawn Mullins, Bristow returned to the USA in Feb 2011 as the opening act for internationally acclaimed guitar legend, Tommy Emmanuel. Playing to SOLD OUT 1,500+ capacity theatres, Jackie is at home on the stage. 2011 was a very successful year in the US, touring and opening for some big names - Marc Cohn, John Waite, BJ Thomas, John Oates, Bettye Lavette, Joe Ely, Jimmy LaFave, Marcia Ball, Charlie Robison and Bob Schneider and in past years Daniel Lanois, Art Garfunkel, Phoebe Snow, Madeleine Peyroux, Jimmy Webb to name a few.

Her new album Freedom, is steeped in powerhouse vocals, blazing guitars, and a storytelling narrative. Freedom has received national airplay and garnered generous praise from top critics. The Austin Chronicle calls Jackie Bristow "A class-act to watch" and Austin Music Entertainment says "Freedom ingratiates itself immediately with Bristow's slinking sexy, voice and her deftly blended rock-country-folk songwriting. She can do Texas Rock as well as the good 'ole boys." That may be true, but she can also reduce an audience to pin-drop silence as she sings an A Capella version of Aotearoa, a love song to her homeland. Whether singing about New Zealand or Texas, one thing is certain, Jackie Bristow knows how to dig deep and bare her soul.

Jackie has proven to be an artist that shows no sign of stopping. Music from "Freedom" is currently programmed into rotation at 7,000 different Starbucks locations nationwide. Her live performances have been captivating. One review on her February tour with Tommy Emmanuel on ChicoER (California) said "The show opened with New Zealand-born singer and guitarist Jackie Bristow. Opening for a musical giant like Emmanuel would seem a daunting task, but Bristow was relaxed as her soulfully seductive melodies reverberated within the auditorium. Her beautiful voice and earnest songs resonated with the audience, and they applauded her eagerly. Near the end of the show, Bristow joined Emmanuel on stage for an amazing duet that received a standing ovation".

The Salvation Community Care Team will be in Lyttelton every second and fourth Tuesday commencing 7th February. They are doing a personalised leaflet drop, to introduce themselves to the Lyttelton community. When you see the van please feel to stop by and have a coffee with Bex and Lee.

Community Board Clinics

Informal Meeting with Community Board

Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board members will continue their monthly clinics at the big table in the Lyttelton Library. Anyone is welcome to come and meet board members informally, and discuss any matter of community interest or concern.

The clinics are held from 5.30pm until when the library closes at 6.00pm, usually on the Thursday before the community board's main monthly meeting. The next clinic will be on Thursday 9 February, and the Community Board's next formal meeting will be five days later on Tuesday 14 February.

The agenda for every formal meeting of the Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board is always available for viewing at the library for about a week before each meeting. If you can't find it ask the librarian. It is also available for public viewing at the Lyttelton Service Centre, as well as being put up on the CCC website www.ccc.govt.nz.

The board normally has two meetings a month. The main meeting, in the middle of the month, is when most of the reports are considered and most of the decisions are made. The second one later in the month is just to confirm the minutes of previous meetings so the board's reports can reach the Christchurch City Council table before they are too out of date.

The Community Board look forward to meeting residents at the clinics.

349 Days Without a Toilet

Council Responds to Review

Last weeks cover of the Lyttelton Review certainly received some attention. Rightly so given 3,000 residents, tourists and visitors to Lyttelton are still being greeted with a unisex public toilet port-a-com in which to attend to the call of nature.

The Review can report that a further structural engineering report has been undertaken on the unisex toilet facilities.

Over the course of the past week, Banks Peninsula Councillor - Claudia Reid did pass on the following information:

In regard to the repair and rebuild of Council's facilities, which of course includes Lyttelton's public toilets and the Information Centre, it is anticipated that it will take three years to open the entire 1,600 or so community facilities, large and small - stadiums, swimming pools, town hall, convention centre, libraries, service centres, community halls and so on. A staff paper on how it could be prioritised will come to Council this month. One of the delays of course, is the number of on going events that set the clock running again, particularly June and December, let alone the discovery that those buildings which are or have been occupied, now being assessed as unsafe because of more stringent building code requirements. I notice from the staff's draft that the Lyttelton toilets are not far away, compared to other more complex repairs.

So, keep holding on Lyttelton - relief may not be too far away.

349 Days - 1 Down, 536 To Go

Section 124 Notice Lifted

One lone Section 124 notice prohibiting occupation of a Lyttelton home has been lifted in January as a result of a reassessment of surrounding geotechnical hazards. Assessments were recently carried out by geotechnical engineers contracted to Christchurch City Council on two adjacent properties in Hawkhurst Road.

Both properties had been subject to a Notice to Fix that was issued in December 2011 and expired on 18 January 2012. The lifting of one of these notices came as a result of a formal request to the Council from the two property owners to review independent remediation work carried out during the Notice to Fix period.

It was found that one of the Section 124 notices prohibiting occupation could be lifted as the geotechnical risk had been reduced to an acceptable level. The notice prohibiting occupation of the second house will remain in place. This is because the property is located in an area which is subject to heightened rock fall hazards.

Geotechnical engineers contracted to the Council are in the process of visiting all at-risk houses in the Port Hills to "ground truth" the final draft of the Life-safety Risk from Rock fall report prepared by GNS Science. This involves the site-specific, field assessment of rock fall hazard areas identified by rock fall risk modelling.

It is expected that all properties at risk will be visited and re-assessed by the end of March 2012. Areas that have the highest concentration of houses with Section 124 notices prohibiting occupation will be visited first. If there is any change to the status of a Section 124 notice, the Council will make contact with the resident.

During this process there will be some property owners who will be given the green light to return. For the remaining home owners further uncertainty will exist, until a decision on whether the threat can be remediated or not. The new timeline for these residents is anticipated for the end of June 2012 [subject to ongoing seismic activity].

There are currently 527 land owners who are prohibited from occupying their homes across the Port Hills because of the danger posed by geotechnical hazards such as rock fall, cliff collapse or land movement.

Christchurch Residents Protest

Frustration, Anger and Disbelief Boils Over

Lyttelton residents must be furious to take to the streets to protest. It is one thing to order a beer at the pub and right the wrongs of the antics of the day; it is another for ordinary Lyttelton residents to organise carpools and vote with their presence in front of the Christchurch City Council. According to The Press, last week's protest was one of the biggest street protests the city has seen in the past 30 years. So why are we all so upset? Surely this amount of action isn't the result of one persons pay rise?

It's about earthquake recovery; the slowness to respond; the ridiculous amount of red tape; and the top down attitude that fails to see the untapped human resource available to help in the recovery process.

Did the protest actually convey the frustration and anger that people are feeling because they are being talked down to like children; not being asked for their views; dealt with by 'Consultation Managers' who know nothing about the information they are conveying; an environment where no one has bothered to ask what is wanted and expected; residents are kept in the dark; forced to use the Official Information Act to get any useful information; being blackmailed; and being spied on. Worst of all, the council has wasted our money to do it.

The appointment of a government observer is welcomed, but when can we all start working together to get this town back on its feet?
