Harbour Sediment Pollution

Storm Water Management Under the Spotlight

Last week Paula Smith made a deputation to the Banks Peninsula Water Management Zone Committee to express her concerns over the continued sediment build up in the Lyttelton Harbour. Most of you will know Paula as the Chairperson of the Lyttelton Mt Herbert Community Board, but last weeks deputation was not as an elected member, but as a concerned Diamond Harbour resident. Formerly practicing as a Landscape Architect, with a background in plant ecology, Paula made reference to the quality of the harbour long term residents of Lyttelton will remember: fishing in the harbour; gathering food from the harbour; and recollections of the ferry to Governors Bay. As the harbour has filled with sediment [and based on some calculations this could be an astounding 35cm every year for the past 50 years] the varieties of fish have all but gone and left behind the spiny dogfish; many of the dolphins, whales and penguins have relocated to Akaroa; and the Lyttelton Harbour has infilled with 47 metres of sediment in modern times, making it too shallow for ferries to travel past Quail Island.

While some long term Lyttelton residents believe the build up of sediment occurs due to continual dredging of the Harbour, the Lyttelton Port Company says its activities do not contribute significantly to the harbour's sediment inputs compared with historic practices. Continued dredging is necessary as there is so much sediment sloshing about in the harbour from land-based sources, the shipping channel acts as a sink. Keeping the channel clear of sediment creates a significant ongoing cost for the port.

Paula believes that sediment entering the harbour via the streams of the Lyttelton catchment is one of the most serious water quality issues in Banks Peninsula, up there with Wairewa eutrophication, and it seems to go largely unrecognised and unacknowledged. In order to move forward a shift in attitude toward our harbour waters, and an increased awareness of sediment pollution needs to occur. In presenting her deputation, Paula put forward seven recommendations to the Banks Peninsula Water Management Zone Committee, and asks that an issue for adoption is “a measured reduction in sediment input to Lyttelton Harbour”.

about the lyttelton review

Lyttelton Review is a community newsletter initiative developed by local Professionals real estate agent Lynnette Baird and Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre chairperson Wendy Everingham. The objective of the Lyttelton Review is to help keep local residents informed with what is going on in Lyttelton and the wider Lyttelton Harbour community. Each week readers can read about community groups; businesses; events; and everything in between. Ultimately we are a collective of vibrant, like minded, unpaid volunteers striving to give an independent, and uncensored voice. If you have an event, topic, cause, or other, that you would like to share with the harbour community, then we would love to hear from you. Be heard, be seen, be informed - read it or offer it here.

Civil Defence

A New Beginning

The earthquakes have brought so much change. Many of us are reviewing how we have done things, how we can improve, should we move on. From our personal lives to the organisations we work for everything is in this state of flux.

Civil Defence is no exception. Change is happening from the top to the grass roots. At the local level Ken Maynard has just retired after many years of service as our Area Co-ordinator. The local branch had a celebration to acknowledge Ken's many years of service and his terrific efforts during the state of emergency in February 2011.

Stepping up to the challenge of Area Co-ordinator is Julie Lee [aka Jules]. Lyttelton's former Time bank Co-ordinator Jules will be well known to many of you. Ken passes the baton into great hands and describes Jules as Lyttelton's "Tour de Force". Ken's responsibilities were much larger than Jules thought. They encompass Civil Defence needs for the entire Lyttelton Harbour. Jules immediate challenge will be to coordinate a harbour wide emergency management plan for our communities needs. This will involve all of us and will be our chance to develop a system that reflects what works best for us.

At the National organisation level there is the realisation that the grass roots networks need more autonomy. Julie Lee is going to have more freedom to create the type of Civil Defence network that best suits the needs of this harbour.

"Civil Defence is moving away from its prescriptive model" said Jules. "We have the opportunity to open things up". She is really excited about the possibilities. Fun is something that she plans to embed in the new organisation. She also dreams of much closer links with community organisations around our harbour so that we can create a more connected and dynamic organisation. One instant change for the organisation is that Jules and her team of volunteers can open up a civil defence post whenever they think there is a need. In the past Ken had to wait for approval to do that. In the meantime there are all sorts of local issues that need to be sorted. Currently there is no sector post in Lyttelton with the Recreation Centre closed!

In the last week new developments already include a Lyttelton Harbour Community Civil Defence Face book page <http://www.facebook.com/LytteltonHarbourCommunityCivilDefence>. Check on progress for a new sector post and all things local Civil Defence. Monthly meeting dates have also been set, pencil in the second Monday of the month from 7.00pm to 9.00pm at the St John's Ambulance station in London Street. If you'd like to be a part of the organisation as it redefines itself, now is the time to get involved. Yummy home baked supper to be provided. If meetings aren't for you Jules would still like to hear from you as she is coming up with a cunning plan that caters for all who are keen to be involved, in whatever capacity.

Lyttelton Harbour's new Civil Defence is thinking outside its circle and triangle! For more information call Julie Lee 328 7779 or 0277391832 or email to jslprojects@xtra.co.nz.

Knit Worx for Great Causes

Knit Worx is a social knitting group that began in Lyttelton six years ago. Leesa Ellis started the concept and the group initially met at the Recreation Centre, then the Top Club and since the earthquakes has relocated to a private home in Heathcote. Six to ten women meet regularly and they knit for projects of their choosing.

Pat Laird describes the group. It sounds fun, a good excuse to meet and chat and for those of them that can't meet regularly an activity that keeps them busy. One of the team is former Lyttelton resident Gwen May. She can't make the meetings but is very happy to be occupied knitting.

The team chooses groups to support. A phone call or two and the next project is chosen. They are currently knitting for the Christchurch Women's and Burwood Maternity Hospital units. All the beanies in the photo will be sent in that direction. Over the years projects have included burial garments for the SIDS still born babies, hats and scarves for children at Glenelge, rugs for people with Motor Neuron Disease and soft toys for Lyttelton St John's Ambulance.

Support for the purchase of wool comes locally. Donors include Lyttelton Lions, Lyttelton Rotary and the Lyttelton Top Club. Generally wool is sourced by Pat who keeps an eye out for good deals at Spotlight. Listening to Pat the group certainly gives the Knit Worx team a lot of pleasure.

If you would like to be involved, call Pat Laird 328 8432.

Downhill mountain bike racing reached new heights in Lyttelton last weekend as skilled riders took on the unfamiliar volcanic crater terrain at breath taking speeds. Thousands of people took to the streets to watch the mountain bikers tackle jumps, ramps and corners with skill and a daredevil attitude. A huge thank you needs to go out to Andrea Murray, the volunteers, organising team, and the corporate sponsors for bringing this new initiative to Lyttelton.

Retaining Walls Identified

Approximate Locations for Wall Repair

Following on from the seminars held in Lyttelton two weeks ago, the Stronger Christchurch Infrastructure Rebuild Team [SCIRT] have advised the approximate locations of retaining walls that have made it onto the short list for repairs, at some stage over the next twelve months. Numbers given are the property numbers closest to the proposed work site.

Canterbury Street	No. 62	No. 65-77	No. 91-93	SCIRT expect to have the details finalised on these walls over the next few months, then activity should start.
Ripon Street	No. 15-23
London Street	No. 80			SCIRT still have several months of preparation work for these walls, and it will be mid 2012 before any physical work will begin.
St David's Street	No. 10
Ticehurst Road	No. 16	No. 30	No. 37-39
Selwyn Street	No. 7-11			SCIRT have suggested that these walls are particularly complicated due to multiple owners needing to be consulted, and work will not be expected until the end of the year
Ross Terrace	No. 10a

Residents are reminded that these are approximate locations only as further investigations may reveal a need to begin construction at a different location close by. SCIRT will be in contact with residents before any work begins.

ANZAC Day Service

New Location for Service

This year, due to the damage sustained by the Lyttelton Cenotaph and the Lyttelton RSA Cemetery plots as a result of the earthquake on February 22, the ANZAC Day service this year will be relocated to the Lyttelton Petanque Club site at the corner on London and Canterbury Streets.

The parade will form up at the car park at the corner of Dublin and London Streets from 9:45am to 10:00am on 25 April. The parade, led by the City of Christchurch Pipe Band, will march along London Street to the service at the Petanque Club. The New Zealand Army Band will provide a bugler and the service will be conducted by Rev. Neil Struthers and Pete Dawson of Lyttelton RSA. There will be morning tea served at the Lyttelton St John Ambulance Station, 52 London Street following the service. All members of the Lyttelton and Harbour Bays community are encouraged and welcome to attend.

earthquake rock fall maps

The Christchurch City Council has released a series of 180 maps showing the locations of rock sources in the Port Hills regions, and where rocks have fallen as a result of the recent seismic activity. The key on the maps describes three main areas: Bluff Talus - where debris has fallen from a bluff; Bluff Insitu - the location of a particular bluff; or Bluff Envelope - the general location of a bluff that is too dangerous to allow closer inspection. Print Making Workshops

With Melanie Riley at Orton Bradley Park

Mixed media printmaking combines several techniques together to create unique prints.

- Inks are rolled onto a printing plate and wiped, scratched into before printing. This can be repeated again [with different colours] to print over your first print.
- A second plate with modelling paste is then inked and printed onto your first print.
- The second plate is worked into with old brushes, sticks, etc and allowed to dry. The scratching and brushing allows for a painterly or drawn surface. Textured materials can also be pressed into wet modelling paste.
- Decorative paper can be glued onto blank paper before printing over. You will be working within a square composition format.

Where: Orton Bradley Park

When: 31 March to 1 April, 2012
10am - 3pm each day

Cost: $90 (includes all materials)

Note: Maximum participants: 10
Bring your own lunch, shirt, and pencil case.

Melanie also asks: "Do you know anyone else who may be interested in this course or future ones? I am also looking for suitable premises closer to Christchurch. Can you help me? If this is not enough notice, are you interested in a later [April] workshop?" Melanie can be contacted on (03) 384 5225 or 021 0221 8661 or at qpress@southnet.co.nz

c'mon get involved

A few short weeks ago we crossed paths with a couple of Lyttelton residents who mentioned they would like to volunteer their skills and time to the community effort. One such individual works for a corporate organisation who could mobilise up to ten people as part of a corporate 'volunteer day' - if only they knew what was needed. So here is the call: if you belong to a community organisation and want something done; or if you are a Lyttelton resident and are looking to volunteer your skills on an adhoc basis, just drop us a line at the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre, and we will see if we can connect a request from a community group, with a residents skill.

Daylight Saving ends on the first Sunday in April, or in 2012 that will be Sunday 1st April, where clocks will be wound back one hour, so 3.00am becomes 2.00am. An easy riddle to remember for daylight saving is 'Spring Forward – Fall Back'. If you are American you will of course understand that Fall, is Autumn. So in Spring time clocks move forward, and in Autumn [or Fall] clocks move backwards. Remember to wind the clocks back one hour on Saturday night, and no, this isn't an April Fools joke!
