London Street Brothels

A Future Look at Lyttelton

In 2009 when the Council consulted on the revocation of the Christchurch City Brothels (Location and Signage) Bylaw 2004, it proposed that there not be a new bylaw to take its place. The Council received many submissions arguing against the revocation. Since then the Council has been reviewing the need for a bylaw.

The Council has now decided there is a need for a bylaw as many of the known operator-run brothels were located in the Central City and their business premises are inaccessible or badly damaged following the 2011 earthquakes. These businesses may wish to temporarily or permanently relocate to other parts of the city. The Christchurch City Council is proposing to make a new bylaw to regulate the location of brothels and signs advertising adult services. Currently there are no bylaw controls around where a brothel can set up in the city. This proposed Bylaw will provide controls on where brothels, other than small owner-operator brothels, can operate.

As part of this new bylaw, the Lyttelton Town Centre Zone has been identified as an area that will be acceptable for brothels to open. The Township area is effectively non residential London Street, Norwich Quay and both Oxford Street and Canterbury Street [up to London Street]. In effect, should a brothel choose to open next door to the Lyttelton library, the hairdressers, the supermarket, or next to your favourite cafe spot – then they will be fully entitled to do so. No longer restricted to being first floor businesses, brothels can establish on the street level if they so desire.

The Council is quite clear in their recommendation that the Lyttelton Town Centre is an acceptable location for brothels. Imagine walking down London Street and being greeted with the littering of exotic signage, or men standing in door entrances offering the passerby an escape to Venus experience. Should this Council recommendation continue to proceed unchallenged; then we have to ask: is this the post quake future of Lyttelton we had all envisioned?

The Christchurch City Council will be holding four drop-in sessions where members of the public can view the proposed bylaw ask questions to Council staff and make a submission.

Tuesday, 26 June from 4.30pm to 6.30pm | The Lyttelton Club, 23 Dublin Street

Submissions on this proposal can be made either: through the Have Your Say website; email brothelsbylaw@ccc.govt.nz or in writing to: “Submissions on proposed Council Brothels Bylaw 2012”, Christchurch City Council, PO Box 73013, Christchurch 8154.

Submissions on this Proposal Close 10 July 2012.

Inspiration Plus: Monetary Reform for New Zealand

LIFT Library Speaker Series with Raf Manji

An intimate audience listened intently to Raf Manji at the recent LIFT Library speaker series at Naval Point Club. Raf a former UK international banker spoke about his thoughts on the New Zealand monetary system and the lessons we need to be learning from the Global Financial Crisis.

Raf's talk highlighted how many of us take the money system for granted. We believe the system has always worked and will always work without questioning the actual workings of the system.

Our current system is an interest bearing debt based monetary system. There is very little real cash in the system. Over the years the system has evolved becoming more de-regulated from the 80's. Raf believes our current crisis has been caused by excessive growth of credit coupled by deregulation of the banking industry. This has been exacerbated by pricing signals that send our brightest minds into the banking industry to create even more complex debt products that effectively became the trigger for the financial meltdowns in the USA, Europe and other parts of the world.

He spoke about our general naivety about the system and often we believe authority figures that we have a well managed banking system in New Zealand. He really questions this and pointed to the recent finance company collapses. He then quoted that our "well managed" system has an external debt of $147billion 71% of GDP and net public debt of $41billion 20% of GDP. Since 1973 New Zealand has been spending more money than it earned. He quoted that since 1993 domestic credit has grown from 50 billion to 325 billion in 2012. The majority of this credit has been pushed into house purchases creating the situation in New Zealand where the housing market is very overvalued and unaffordable for many people.

How can New Zealand turn this situation around? How can we avoid our own melt down and beat our debt addiction? He had a couple of suggestions. "Why do we as a country, have to keep creating debt?" He suggested that the government should create money for its needs with no interest. Why should the state pay interest back to itself? He felt that as we retire bad debt (interest bearing) it should be replaced in the system with real cash. The Reserve Bank has the ability to do this.

Another suggestion was the government should place tighter limits on the amount of credit the private banks can lend. He also stressed that all of us need to realise that we need to live within our means and help rebuild the current account.

Another observation was the system needs reform and can't just be controlled by elites who often are removed from ordinary life. We need to actively participate in the process.

Raf finished suggesting that we create a third type of currency to add to the mix. Localised currencies could co-exist in New Zealand with a national currency. This would give local communities more control over the system, and enable the money flows to stay within New Zealand.

If you'd like to follow Raf's ideas further he's part of an on line blog called the Sustento Institute:

St Johns News

Banks Peninsula Area

This is the first of what we hope will become a regular column in the Lyttelton Review that will keep our community up to date with things St John.

Many people either forget or do not know that St John is a charity. We need to rely heavily on public donations now so that we can be there for our community when you need us. It's that simple. And that is the message St John hopes to get out there this year.

Monday 18 to Sunday 24 June is the St John Annual Appeal week, and our people are out across New Zealand raising awareness of the work we do – and raising funds for our services.

Every day St John ambulances respond to over 1,000 calls for help across the country. That's almost twice as many calls as we were answering 20 years ago. Even places like Lyttelton and Banks Peninsula are not immune from the growing demands. So, the support of our communities is invaluable to us, as without it, we could not continue provide the level of service that we currently do.

While St John receives funding from contracts with the Ministry of Health, the Accident Compensation Corporation and District Health Boards, this funding only partially covers the direct operating costs for our Ambulance Service. The remaining shortfall and the cost to run our community programmes is made up from fundraising, revenue from our commercial activities, as well as income from emergency ambulance part charges. Our challenge is that the demand is growing and the cost to provide these essential services is rising. Our formal funding levels unfortunately are not keep pace.

Sometimes people forget St John is a charity and that we rely on donations to provide many of our community services. For example, St John has just started a new St John Youth Division in Lyttelton [we will be profiling this in a later column]. Our youth programme provides leadership and first aid skills to young people. This fantastic programme is funded by donations.

This week, look out for our St John collectors at the Lyttelton Farmers Market on Saturday 23 June. We appreciate your support, and your community will too. When you see one of our uniformed collectors please take the time to ask them about St John in Lyttelton and Banks Peninsula and find out how you can help through financial support of our St John Support Scheme or becoming a member of our Lyttelton Operations Team.

If you would like further information about St John in Lyttelton and how you can participate you can contact Pete Dawson on 021 334 381 or email pete@fishcon.net

End of An Era

Farewell to the Old Fire Station

On Sunday 17 June 2012 a small piece of the tapestry of Lyttelton came to a close. This was the taking of the last Lyttelton Volunteer Fire Brigade photo outside the station on London Street.

The Fire station which was opened in 1964 suffered severe damage in the February and following earthquakes and will be demolished in the next few weeks. The brigade will be moving off site to a temporary home in Norwich quay where it will set up for approximately six months this will allow the Fire station and social hall to be demolished and stabilisation work to be done on the ground. Once this work has been done the Brigade will move back up on to the site in temporary buildings for approximately eighteen months while building design, resource consent and construction is completed for the new buildings.

The photograph shows the brigade members with the life members of the brigade in front of the station for the last time.

Lyttelton Future Ferns Netball

Schools Combine Netball Talent

Kai ora! The 2012 season of netball is well underway with both teams showing great enthusiasm, team spirit and making fantastic progress with learning new skills.

Team bonding has been a key focus for 2012 with a two schools equals one community vision. This kicked off with hot soup at the Youth Centre after the first game on week one. A team outing to see the Tactix play live at the CBS Arena. Then last Sunday both teams gathered at the Heathcoat Cricket Club to watch the Tactix play on the big screen... including best-dressed supporters, face painting and heaps of fun!

The Lyttelton Future Ferns Netball club are organising a fundraiser for the teams and need your help. They are pulling together a large hamper raffle. They are asking if people could donate as much or as little as they can afford to contribute that would be much appreciated. For example: chocolate, chutney, wine, spices, tin food, biscuits, crackers, coffee etc – any goodies you would love to receive in a hamper.

Donations of goodies can be dropped off to Lyttelton Main School office, and marked for the attention of the Lyttelton Future Ferns Netball club. Ideally the club were looking for donations by Thursday 14th June to then start the selling of raffle tickets. However, all donations would be gladly received, and perhaps two raffles might be created for the club.

calling all community groups

The Lyttelton Review has been designed to help keep Harbour residents informed. It is a tool to be used for sharing information, and is widely circulated across residents, business and media contacts. A great way to find out what has happened during the year from our community organisations is to read their Chairpersons AGM summaries. If you would like to share your AGM reports, or any other information as required. with the wider community we'd love to hear from you.

pass it on, spread the word

Not everyone receives these news letters, so please pass them onto anyone you think would be interested. We can also arrange printed copies for interested parties - just let us know. A big thank you to everyone who emails us with what is happening in their part of Lyttelton Harbour paradise. If you have news, or belong to a community group, own a business - get in contact with us, we would love to promote or share your story with the Lyttelton Harbour district. Errors, Omissions and Typos are all part and parcel of a volunteer service. These quirky additions are offered free for your amusement. But, if we have "got it wrong" - please just let us know.

Community Groups to Engage with Council

There are two important dates coming up for Lyttelton: two meetings of the Christchurch City Council where important decisions affecting Lyttelton will be made.

On Thursday, June 21, one of the items on the Council's agenda will be the formal adoption of the Lyttelton Master Plan. We are yet to see the final cut of the plan, but Council staff have been working on changes to the plan based on the community's submissions to the final draft over the past few weeks, and the final version should be available on the Council's website on Monday 18th June, prior to its consideration at the Council meeting on Thursday 21st June. Lyttelton community groups, including the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre, Project Lyttelton, the Lyttelton Harbour Business Association, and the Lyttelton Community Association will be making a deputation to the Council at that meeting, supporting adoption of the Master Plan itself, and suggesting between them that the most important quickly achievable projects in the plan are the Civic Square project, along with the need for a change to the district plan relaxing the on-site parking regulations in Lyttelton town centre. Both of these were strongly supported in the community's submissions to the draft plan, and for these community groups to speak to these at the Council meeting adds further strength to this community support. It is hoped that the Council will prioritise the Civic Square project, and the deputation will be supporting Council's purchase of the whole proposed site, and the inclusion of all of the site into a green space which will give the community an excellent gathering and meeting place in the Town Centre.

On Thursday, June 28, Council considers the adoption of their Annual Plan. This is essentially Council's "budget" for the next twelve months, commencing 1 July 2012. In the draft plan there is a budget for "strategic land purchase". The same community groups will again be making deputations to the full Council Meeting on June 28, to urge council to adopt the plan containing this budget, and to allocate some of those funds to Lyttelton so that the "strategic land purchase" of the site for the Civic Square project can proceed, and so that this project can then be achieved.

It has been great over the past year or so to see the Lyttelton Petanque Club site in the Town Centre be so well used. Thanks to the owners of the site, and to Gapfiller, this initiative has brought a public open space to the centre of town which has enabled many community activities and events to take place. The Civic Square project will ensure that there is a suitable open space in the Lyttelton Town Centre for its future needs, and has been widely supported within the community.

If you would like to comment on any of the proposals above or would like to discuss please contact Andrew Turner via email: andrew.turner@clear.net.nz or 021 159 3100.

Oops!

For some time now, the Lyttelton Review has been referring to the Naval Point Club as the Naval Point Yacht Club. It would appear the word "yacht" left the club name more than a decade ago! Our apologies for not getting the name right all this time. The Naval Point Club is a boating and water sports club, ranging from sailing, power and paddling: including all sailing types, power boats, jet skis, Waka Ama [Te Waka Pounamu] SUPs [stand up Paddlers] and more.

The Naval Point Club is treasured local resource, a wonderful concept and the cooperation of the member groups is the envy of sports groups and communities nationally. For more information on what groups and activities are available at the Naval Point Club, have a chat to the Naval point professional staff, Ken or Ross on 328 7029.

LIFT Library

Living Economies + Inspiration + Facts + Transition

Snuggle up with an inspiring book in this cold weather! But, if you haven't got time to read a big book, try one of the new magazines that have come to hand:

The latest Pacific Ecologist has very comprehensive coverage of "The Food Crisis", including articles on the food/fuel/financial/climate crises [they really are so interlinked]; and one recently promoted idea in an article by two University of Waikato professors on "The case for Universal Basic Income in New Zealand and Worldwide". There is also an excellent review [among several on sustainable food production] by local Lyttelton resident Cliff Mason, of the New Zealand Living Economies edition of "Fleeing Vesuvius". A group of articles on ecological agriculture includes one by Ted Trainer of Australia: "A simpler way to feed the world".

This whole magazine is enlightening and inspiring – and backs up the films we're currently showing in our Monday night film screenings, for the first few weeks on issues around food.

To become a member of the LIFT Library, based right here in Lyttelton, contact Juliet Adams on 03 328 8139 or mobile 021 899 404, for more information. And if you are already a member, and these books appeal to you, remember Juliet offers a complimentary pickup and delivery service to the Lyttelton Harbour Information Centre, or the Project Lyttelton office, if you are unable to make it over to the LIFT Library in Voelas Road.
